NUMBER 22. Single Copy 5 Cents. NORWAY, ME. FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1927. VOLUME LVIII

NORWAY VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Robbins of Leominster, Mass., Mary Witt, Lucy Witt, and Ethel Lapham of Augusta and Abbie Witt of Norway Center have been spending a few days at the Witt cottage.

Tarvia is being spread on the Norway Lake road and the highway is being put into first class condition.

Progress is being made on the road bed along Norway Branch for an extension of the side-track used when the "dummy" was in action for a cross over. Several cars of cinders have been unloaded there and more material will be needed before ties and rails are laid.

Charles Morse caught a large eel, Wednesday morning, in the brook back of Fred Cummings' place. It was 39 inches long and weight 5 1-4 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pike of Mansfield, Mass., were guests of Mr. Pike's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Bradbury, over the week end.

W. C. Goodwin and family and Jack Bartlett spent the week end at Camp Brockton, at Ketchum.

There will be a dance at Snow's Falls, Thursday night. Music by the Bluebird Serenaders.

There will be no dance at Poland Corner or Locke's Mills, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Andrews and daughter of Dover, N. H., were week end visitors of relatives in town. Mr. Andrews is manager of the United Shoe Co. store in Dover.

Miss Thelma Bradbury is assisting in Ray Penfold's Rayrene Soda Shop at South Paris.

Tannery Brook was at freshet pitch, Friday, with the fields east of the depot and Norway Branch flooded. Gardens already planted were ruined along the bog and Pennesseewassee stream as the water raised some eighteen inches during the rainfall Thursday night and Friday. The lake is high and brook fishing is uncertain.

Carl Boynton of Portland was in town Sunday and Monday, visiting with his mother, Mrs. H. Lizzie Boynton.

Visitors at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Walker were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Walker and John Purdy of West Kennebunk. They arrived last week and returned home Monday afternoon.

Walter Young of Portland visited with his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Young, over the week end and holiday.

Abe Klain, a foreman at the Hazzard Shoe Co. factory, in Gardiner, spent Sunday and the holiday with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perry were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harding and son, Miss Mildred Marston, and Geo. Patch, on an auto trip, Monday, through Bethel and Newry to Screw Auger Falls, Grafton and Upton. A basket lunch was eaten at the falls, after which the party visited the natural curiosities along the road through the Notch.

The service lines of the Central Maine Power Co., are being extended in this vicinity with three crews on the job. One line extends from Harrison to camps at Island Pond, a distance of about 6 miles. One other extension is from Harrison to Bolster's Mills, making some 12 miles of construction. A high tension line will connect Mechanic Falls and Norway. This is being built through the woods in practically a direct line and a safe distance from the state road and other well travelled highways. Many truck loads of poles for the Harrison job have passed through the village the past week and more.

Miss Mabel Austin, daughter of Mrs. Etta Austin, Danforth Street, is recovering from her accident and able to get out again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young of Portand were in town, Monday.

Mrs. Charles E. Osgood and son, Ralph S. Osgood, spent Sunday and Memorial Day at Meredith Center, N. H. Mrs. Osgood, who has been here for the past two months, will spend the summer there. Her daughter, Mrs. Lena Russell, of Farmington, N. H., is spending this week with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal R. Eaton are soon to go from Manchester, N. H., to Syracuse, N. Y., as Mr. Eaton has accepted a position as principal of the Central High School in that city. This is the fourth time Mr. Eaton has been asked to accept the position. He has been principal of the high school at Manchester for the past six years, going there from Lynn. Mr. Eaton will teach in summer school in the University of New Hampshire and go to Syracuse in August. Their son, Sargent Eaton, will enter the University in Syracuse. He has been attending Phillips-Exeter school since graduating from high school. Mrs. Eaton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sargent of Norway.

Mabel Austin was badly injured Thursday night about 5 o'clock when she was hit by a truck and knocked down and her collar bone was broken and was bruised about her face. She was crossing the street by Beal's Tavern and in looking one way for automobiles, walked in front of the truck which came from the other direction. It was feared she had concussion of the brain at first, but Friday she was more comfortable and indications point to a quick recovery.

Mrs. Bertha Noyes returned from Salem, Mass., Thursday evening, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George H. Whitman, who has been spending the winter with her son, Walter Whitman and family. She will remain for the present at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Donald B. Partridge and family, and will go later to her home on Alpine St.

Mr. and Mrs Roland Nevers and daughter, Madeline, spent the week end and Memorial Day with Mrs. Nevers' relatives in Bethel.

Dr. Fred E. Drake returned to Norway, Thursday, for the summer. He will make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Hayden, who are moving to the old Hayden homestead on Pleasant Street. Miss Madelyn Hayden returned home with him and will probably remain for the summer. She has been employed by her uncle, Frank P. Knight, at his office in Manchester, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moffat and Mrs. Harry Burnham of Boston, came for the week end and holiday at the Moffat cottage at the Lake. Miss Emma J. Smith, who returned home from the Moffat's a few weeks ago and has been at her home in Norway village, spent the time with them at the cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pease and son, of Providence, R. I., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Faneuf over the week end and Memorial Day. This was the visitors' first trip into Maine and Fred introduced them to the scenic beauties of Norway and Paris. Mrs. Faneuf accompanied them to Providence for a visit this week.

Mrs. Howard Maxim arrived Sunday, from St. Petersburg, Fla., and is at the home of her brother, Percy H. Nevers, until Mr. and Mrs. Maxim return to their home on Main Street. Mrs. Maxim visited several weeks with her brother, Dr. Harry Nevers, in Lawrence, Mass., and with a sister, Mrs. W. H. Young, in Portland.

Norway Minister to Marry in June

The following article is taken from the Boston Globe:

"Rev. Marguerite G. Pearman, 24, of Cambridge, pretty woman pastor of the First Universalist Church of Norway, Me., filed marriage intentions at Cambridge City Hall yesterday afternoon to marry State Representative Glenn R. McIntire, 29, wealthy Norway lumberman and chairman of the parish committee of her church.

The wedding will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Pearman of 24 Ellery St., Cambridge, on Friday, June 3, at 2 p. m. Rev. Mr. Sias of the Universalist Church at Turner Center, Me., will officiate.

Rev. Miss Pearman, who is one of the few women ministers in New England, went to the Maine town to act as assistant pastor of the church in the Fall of 1925, soon after her graduation from Tufts College, where she had also taken courses at the Crane Theological School. She was ordained a minister at the church on October 31, 1926, and in November, the next month, she was appointed pastor. At this time her engagement was announced.

Representative McIntire is now serving his second year in the State Legislature. He was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1925.

Miss Georgiana von Tornow of New York City will be maid of honor at the wedding and Lindsay Horsman of Philadelphia, Bowdoin, '25, will be best man. The couple will be at home July 1, in Norway, Me. Rev. Miss Pearman resigned from her position last Sunday."

Norway Municipal Court

Wm. F. Jones, Judge

J. A. Gamage of Augusta pleaded guilty to speeding and settled a fine of $25. This was the second chapter in the auto race on the Woodstock highway between Roy Crockett of Bethel, in a Cadillac and the respondent with a Lincoln. Highway officer C. E. Patten held up the contestants and ordered them to answer in court. Crockett pleaded guilty to speeding and paid a fine of $25 at an earlier hearing.

Robert Kirk of Bethel was ordered to destroy his police dogs, charged with killing sheep owned by Vere Bean of that town. Albert J. Stearns, Esq., of Norway, was counsel for the respondent and Selectman H. W. Boyker appeared for the town, with D. M. Forbes as complainant.

MRS. ANNIE M. WILSON VISITS NORWAY

Mrs. Annie Mae Wilson arrived in Norway, Sunday evening, from Los Angeles, California, for a two weeks' visit and is being received by her old friends and acquaintances with open arms. She is stopping at her step-mother's, Mrs. Mary Cole's. She tells of a most pleasant and enjoyable trip East. Down the California coast for some seven or eight days to Panama. The sea was as smooth as the Pennesseewassee Lake. Across the Isthmus, through the seven locks of the canal, was a wonderful experience and one never to be forgotten. At one place the steamship was lowered many feet. Gatun Lake, where once was a forest inhabited by savage beasts and reptiles, was a beautiful body of water. The contrast between the people and country ruled by the natives and the United States Government was very marked. Dirt, squalor and wretchedness on one side, and cleanliness, thrift, and order on the other. "We don't appreciate as we should," she says, "the government under which we live, till we see what the people are where some other flag but the Stars and Stripes floats." From Colon, she went to Havana, where the steamer she was on anchored over the very spot where the Maine was blown up. From Havana, she went to New York, where her married daughter lives.

She has been away from Norway for many years and has seen a large number of fine places, but none of them are quite equal to the village among the old Oxford County hills, where she was born. She is a lady of exceptional intelligence and has lost in all the years of her absence none of the charm of youth and beauty. She is enthusiastic over Southern California, though it still has some desert lands, but with water from the Colorado river to be impounded by a gigantic dam at Boulder, yet to be built, they will blossom as the rose.

OXFORD COUNTY SCHOOLMASTERS ASSOCIATION SECOND MEETING

The second meeting of the Oxford County Schoolmasters' Association was held at Beals Tavern, Norway, on Tuesday evening, May 17th, with Pres. A. B. Hayes of South Paris, presiding. After enjoying a splendid supper the present officers were re-elected to serve for next year, namely Supt. A. B. Hayes, as president, and Principal Maynard C. Waltz, of Canton High School, as secretary.

There was a general discussion of school problems led by S. J. Rawson, C. W. Waltz, and C. S. Fuller. The discussion provoked the appointment of a committee consisting of S. J. Rawson, C. W. Waltz and C. S. Fuller that should report at the next meeting relative to the matter of including all school activities in the county under the supervision of the Schoolmasters' Association. It was voted that the next meeting of the Association be held at Bethel next fall at the meeting of the County Association. C. S. Fuller was chosen publicity agent for the Association.

The following members of the Association were present:

E. H. Brown, teacher of Agriculture, Norway
Lindley Hubbard, Submaster, Mexico
M. C. Waltz, Principal, Canton
John Parlin, teacher, Canton
Roy Williams, Superintendent, Rumford
J. C. Abernathy, Principal, Rumford
H. Brown, teacher of Agriculture, Rumford
Leon Spinney, Superintendent, Mexico
S. J. Rawson, Principal, Mexico
Raymond Saunders, Principal, Oxford
Mr. Pulsifer, Teacher, Rumford
A. B. Hayes, Superintendent, South Paris
C. S. Fuller, Principal, South Paris
R. L. Jacobs, Submaster, South Paris
W. H. Edminster, Superintendent, Norway

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cowan of Portland visited with relatives, Sunday.

Elwin S. Russell returned from Central Maine General Hospital, Monday, and is entertaining many callers. His health is greatly improved.

Miss Emma Porter, who attends Gorham Normal, was at home over Sunday and Monday.

Miss Virginia Mixer, who teaches in Beverly, Mass., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Mixer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keene and daughter, Eleanora, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson of Framingham, Mass., spent the week end and holiday at the Charles Frost cottage at Norway Lake.

Frank Miller of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Mr. Hubble of Stamford, Conn., were at Lakeside Inn, several days, fishing, and had fine luck.

Fred Moore came from Portland to spend the week end and Memorial day with Mrs. Moore.

Report Magalloway Trip

Much Fishing But Nothing Said As To Fish—Draw Your Own Conclusions

The bold fisherman, who stops principally at the Weary Club, when in Norway, and occasionally is found in this office, returned from Magalloway, Tuesday. He reports plenty of fishing, some rain, and good time. Also that he cast a fly 36 hours and 10 minutes and is silent over the number of trout taken.

Dr. C. R. Aldrich of Brattleboro, Vt., got a five and a half pound trout which he is having mounted by "Nash, of Maine." The doctor claims this fish has cost him right around one thousand dollars per pound, as he has been fishing 31 years for it. Another big one—over 5 pounds were taken by Mr. Estes of the same city. These are the only two "whoppers" thus far taken.

Mellie Gaining

Been Ill for Two Weeks

Mellie Dunham was dressed and about the house, Wednesday. He has been in bed with grippe and a severe cold the past two weeks and obliged to cancel engagements. Mellie is gaining and expects to return to his usual good health within a short time.

Accordion Numbers
Musical Monologues
Costumed Songs
Trick Piano Playing
Instrumental Imitations
Special Novelty Features

The entertainment is under the auspices of the society and generous patronage is expected.

FORTY AND EIGHT WITH RED FIRE

Rain Friday night failed to down the enthusiasm of the 40 and 8 members of Oxford County, who gathered with representatives from other places in Maine, at the America Legion Home at Norway. Grand officers were present and several candidates were put through a system of army tactics practiced in the order.

A banquet at 6:30 was served by the auxiliaries of Oxford, South Paris and Norway to one hundred and more. The parade on Main Street started about 7:45 in a blaze of red flares and singing. Led by the Lewiston Drum Corps in charge of W. E. Boardway, a long column, including the candidates and members, marched to the head of the street and counter marched to the hall. The boys to get theirs in the initiation, were dolled up in fantastic attire and had a dejected look. The twenty-seven musicians from Lewiston wore service uniforms and dispensed excellent bugle and drum selections during the march. Dallas Benson's freight car, representing the French means of transporting soldiers and horses, started in good faith but the motor went dead near Beal's Tavern, so failed to complete the trip. Red flares illuminated the streets much like a political celebration. Members of the auxiliaries, who provided the banquet, rode in the Weiner bus from Lewiston, while the grand officers and special guests traveled in automobiles provided for their use.

The degree was conferred in the presence of the grand officers who were: Grand Chef-de-gare, Roscoe Perkins, of Bath; Grand Chef-de-train, Chas. E. Perry, Kittery Point; Grand Commissaire Intendant, W. Warren Harmon, Old Orchard; Grand Correspondent, Frank L. Elliott, Oakland; Grand Conducteurs, Dr. T. Turcott, Waterville; Grande-de-La Porte, Morris Rothfield, Rumford. Among the guests were several National cheminots and a visitor of note was Wallace E. Price of Augusta, formerly of Norway.

Everybody had a good time and declared this one of the best county gatherings.

NORWAY MADE SECOND PLACE

Stephens High School piled up 47 1-2 points, with Norway High second on the 22 1-2 mark at the annual Oxford County meet, held at Mexico, Saturday. Gould Academy chalked down 18 points; Fryeburg Academy 6; Mexico High School 6; South Paris High 5, and Canton 3. All field records were smashed with the exception of broad jump.

"Bunk" Goodwin of Norway made a record in the pole vault with 10 ft., 4 1-2 inches. Freddie Lewis of Norway broke the time record in the mile, covering the distance in 5 minutes, 7 1-5 seconds. This is a new record.

A banquet was tendered the athletes after the meet and a dance complimentary to the contestants was held in the evening.

Summary of events:

100 yard dash—Won by Damour, Rumford; second, Hamlin, Gould's; third, Bumpus, South Paris. Time, 10 3-5.

Pole Vault—Won by Goodwin, Norway; second, Lundell, South Paris; third, tie, Matheson, Norway, and Piawlock, Rumford. Height 10 feet 4 1-2 inches. New record.

Hammer Throw—Won by Piawlock, Rumford; second, Locke, Norway; third, Jamison, Mexico. Distance 102 feet, 5 inches. New record.

Discus Throw—Won by Quinn, Fryeburg; second, Gidman, Rumford; third, Ballard, Fryeburg. Distance 105 feet, 8 inches. New record.

Shot Put—Won by Piawlock, Rumford; Gidman, Rumford, second; Hoyt, Rumford. Distance 43 feet, 3 1-2 inches. New record.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Thibodeau and daughter, of New Bedford, Mass., Mr. and Mrs W. Sherman Rowe of Portland, and Earl Thibodeau, of Stoneham, Mass., were guests of Thomas Thibodeau over the week end and holiday.

George P. Downing of Lewiston spent the week end and holiday in town.

Otis N. Jones arrived, Sunday, at the home of his parents, Judge and Mrs Wm. F. Jones. He came from Clarksville, Tenn., where he visited with his sister and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. Thalmer Joslin, after giving up work in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Ed. Packard has started a foundation on his lot, just around the corner on Pleasant Street, for a bungalow style house. If nothing prevents, he will occupy the premises before another winter.

Brown Spaniel is Dead

"Buster" Lombard Dead at Age of Ten Years. Constant Attendant at School

"Buster" Lombard, the brown spaniel dog belonging to Donald Lombard, of Otisfield, died Monday morning, May 16, age 10 years. He will be greatly missed at the Spurr's Corner School where he has been a regular attendant for six years beginning with Donald, when he entered school. He always had a lunch, but teacher and scholars had something for him, too. He had a seat which he always got into as soon as the bell rang. If he was ever tardy he would bark at the door to be let in. When the signals were given for recess and noon hour, he would immediately take place in the line and march out with the scholars.

When the new schoolhouse was opened, he showed very plainly that he did not like it by not coming as regularly.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Monday was fittingly observed with exercises commencing at 9 o'clock in the morning, when the procession formed in front of Pythian Hall and paraded toward Pine Grove Cemetery. A large delegation of school children carried flags, together with the Boy Scouts, under Scoutmaster Elsid Mattor and Girl Scouts in charge of their leader, Mrs. Nelson, fell into line at the corner of Main and Paris Streets.

The procession was the longest for some years and made up in the following order: Marshals, Laurence Denison and Roy Lapham; band, color bearers, Company C, 103 Infantry; Sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, and school children. Automobiles conveying G. A. R. veterans and women of the various patriotic orders and other citizens.

Graves were decorated at Pine Grove Cemetery and brief exercises at the tomb were carried out in the following order:

Reading, Logan's General Order No. 11 ......
Prayer .... Rev. Pliny A. Allen
Lincoln's Gettysburg Address .... Laurence H. Denison
Address .... Bertrand G. McIntire
Singing .... School Children
Firing Squad Co. C, 103 Infantry ....

The line reformed and marched to Rustfield cemetery, where graves were decorated, then proceeded to Witherell Park for exercises at the soldiers' monument, as follows:

Music .... Norway-Paris Band
Prayer .... Rev. Pliny Allen
Flag Salute and Singing .... School Children
Address .... B. G. McIntire
Music .... Band

After the services, free tickets for ice cream at the several drug stores were distributed to the children and dinner was served at Grange Hall by the ladies of the patriotic orders, to the G. A. R. and allied orders, also to the band and military company.

There were no services in the afternoon.

Miss Sara True of Boston was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. True, over the week end.

Walter Smith and wife, of Conway, N. H., called on his sister, Mrs. Lizzie McAllister, at Victor Mattor's, one day this week.

The Opera House tower roof has been painted and the roof of the block repaired. After a few days of silence, the town clock is again striking the hours, and displaying standard time from four faces, glistening because of fresh gold leaf.

Dr. Fred E. Drake has decided to resume dental practice and will have his former quarters in Dr. Arthur W. Easton's office. There will be some delay while the room is being equipped for his use. Dr. Drake spent the winter in Portsmouth, N. H., and has grown restless for hard work.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glidden and children, of Belfast, visited with friends, Sunday and Monday.

A sun parlor is being attached to L. H. Cushman's residence. Extensive changes have been made in the rooms on both floors.

R. M. McGown, Bates College, preached the Memorial sermon Sunday forenoon at the regular service. Harry Rust Post G. A. R. and all patriotic orders were represented and occupied pews reserved for them. There was special music and a sermon appropriate to the day.

Regular church service Sunday at 10.45, the pulpit will be supplied by R. M. McGown. Good music by the vested choir.

Juniors will meet Sunday at 3 p. m., leader, Frances McAllister. Subject, "How to be Happy." This will be the last meeting until Sept. 1. Children's Day will be observed June 19.

AMERICAN LEGION MINSTRELS

Here we go for the seventh annual minstrels staged by Harold E. Moore, under the auspices of Wm. Henry Stone Post No. 82, American Legion of Norway.

The place is Norway Opera House, the dates Thursday and Friday, June 9-10. Curtain at 8:15. Everything points to a bang-up good show with the funniest endmen in this vicinity, plus Jake Andrews of Dover, N. H., as jokesmiths. Donald B. Partridge as interlocutor is all right, and the soloists are picked from the best in town to support the noted tenor, Charles Harrison, of New York, and Ernest Combellack of Intervale, Maine. The theatre orchestra needs no introduction for each player is an artist and right at home with minstrel business.

Master John Quinn, Jr., of Oxford, will instantly become a favorite. The youngster has inherited unusual talent and as a juvenile entertainer, is one of the best in this locality.

The Floyds, in a professional act, introducing mystery and psychic demonstrations, are from the White Bureau in Boston and come highly endorsed.

Stage settings and costumes will be elaborate and up to "Hack" Moore's standard established years ago. Program:

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Pliny A. Allen delivered at the services last Sunday morning, an eloquent and patriotic discourse for his Memorial Sunday sermon. It was greatly appreciated by his audience and listened to with rapt attention to the last word. The society made no mistake in selecting him as its pastor and by his connection with so many of the old families and his pleasing manners, he is greatly liked by all who get acquainted with him; he can do a work in strengthening the society that no one else could do. It is a noteworthy fact that his father, of the same name, for many years was a preacher of the gospel of the same faith. Rev. Chas. R. Tenney, his uncle, is a Doctor of Divinity and his grandfather, Rev. Timothy J. Tenney, in his time was one of the ablest ministers of the denomination. Besides his good work in the society, he is winning hosts of warm friends in the community.

DISTRICT MEETING OF TELEPHONE ASSOCIATION

On Friday, June 3, the Maine Telephone Association will hold their district meeting at the Norway Grange Hall. The affair will be in charge of A. Van Den Kerckhoven, manager of the Van Tel. & Tel. Forty horses are stabled at the fair grounds and in training for the fall races. Many more are expected within a few weeks and the track will be a busy place during the summer. To increase interest, matinee races made up from the field, will be held as during last season.

Some twelve families or groups had camps at Lake Penesseewassee over Memorial Day. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Paret of Moorestown, N. J., and Mrs. E. S. Cubberly and party from New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Perley Crockett of Portland were in town, Monday, to bring the body of Mr. Crockett's mother, Mrs. Chas. Wyman, for interment in Pine Grove Cemetery. She died in Westbrook at the age of 69 years. She formerly lived in Norway, leaving town about twenty years ago. Mr. Crockett has been employed with the Portland Street Railroad Co., for the past twenty-four years.

The members of the eighth grade went to West Paris with their teacher, Miss Ehel Flavin, the past week. This has been an annual affair since Miss Flavin has been teacher of the grade and the boys and girls look forward with much antcipation to the trip. Cooking supper in campfire style is appealing as well as the good time in the evening.

The members of the Swastika Club were entertained the last of the week at the home of Mrs. William White (Helen Burrowes) at Lewiston. The evening was devoted to needlework and the hostess served a delicious lunch. The members in the group were Miss Maud Mixer, who furnished transportation, Miss Charlotte Lovejoy, Mrs. Harriot Porter, Mrs. Helen Borneman, Mrs. Claribel Sanborn and Mrs. Annie Sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas of Granville, N. Y., arrived in Norway Sunday night, having made the trip by automobile in seven hours. They came through the mountains. They are visiting his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Andrews of Watertown, Mass., are spending a few days with Mr and Mrs Herbert F. Andrews, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCready and son, Henry, have returned from a vacation trip to Boston and Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton W. Shaw and daughter, Priscilla, of Auburn, spent the week end and holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Edward Carroll, Beal Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Asaph J. Richardson and granddaughter, Phyllis Richardson, of North Jay, and their son, William Richardson of Wilton, were in town over the week end, guests of Mr and Mrs. Chas. A. Richardson and family.

SOUTH PARIS NEWS

Memorial Services at South Paris

Prof. Wilmot B. Mitchell of Bowdoin College preached the Memorial sermon, Sunday morning at the Congregational Church; with members of the G. A. R. and patriotic orders in attendance. There was special music.

Appropriate Memorial Day exercises were held Monday, beginning with a procession that formed at G. A. R. hall about 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Led by the Hebron Boys' Band, 20 pieces, patriotic bodies, the American Legion and school children marched to Riverside cemetery with Capt. Guy I. Swett as marshal.

Exercises included a prayer by Rev. L. S. Staples of Deering Memorial Church; Gettysburg address by Comrade A. J. Holden and a salute by a firing squad of eight men from Company C, and taps. Brief exercises were held at the monument in Moore Park.

Dinner was served in G. A. R. Hall to the Veterans, the American Legion, members of the Sons of Veterans and Auxiliaries, and the band. School children received tickets to exchange for ice cream cones at several stores.

Exercises at Association Hall in the afternoon opened with a medley of national songs by the band; General Logan's general orders, and prayer by Rev. E. B. Tetley of the Baptist Church and address by Judge Robert A. Cony of Augusta, and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band.

The Hebron Boys' Band of Hebron Academy made a fine appearance in white uniforms and they played like veterans. Their work is deeply appreciated for it is understood they donated their services.

Special Town Meeting is Called

Road matters that have a bearing on the appearance of Market Square, will be taken up at a special town meeting at Association Hall, Saturday, June 4, at 2 p. m.

Articles call for the election of a selectman to succeed Robert E. Shaw, who has resigned; to see if $250 raised in March to advertise Maine shall be transferred to the Maine Publicity Bureau to raise $500 for road improvements in Market Square; to see if town will accept the widening of Main and Pine Streets and raise money for the same, to lay out and build a sidewalk on Church Street on the library lot, and to extend the sewer up High Street and raise money for same.

Mrs. Frank S. Chandler of Auburn, who has been visiting in Bethel and West Paris, is at the home of her son, W. S. Chandler, for a while.

Miss Reta Shaw was vocal soloist with Shaw's Band at West Paris, Monday forenoon, and Miss Emma West was soloist at West Sumner.

Robert E. Shaw has resigned as selectman and it is understood George W. Richardson will be a candidate for that office. Mr. Shaw will take charge of the Mason Manufacturing Company dowel business in Chelsea, Mass., commencing next week. His family will probably remain here until fall.

Ray Frost, who constructs bird houses and lawn decorations, has built and set a pergola and rose trellis on the Fogg estate at Paris Hill.

Ralph (Young Doc) Robinson made a record for Hall Pond, Monday, when he landed a four and one-quarter pound salmon. The fish measured twenty-five inches in length and is the largest taken there in years.

Shaw's dance at Paris Hill, Monday night, attracted seventy couples. Another will be held there next Monday evening. Dances at West Paris have been changed to Tuesday evenings, owing to a summer engagement at Poland Springs every Wednesday.

Hollis McGinley, now located in Portsmouth, N. H., was at his home over Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Edwards were at Camp Rocky, Pleasant Lake, in Otisfield, Sunday and Monday. They did some fly fishing and climbed Pine Hill in Casco. Their guests for the outing were Mr. and Mrs. Perley Snow of Norway.

Mrs. Albert Worthen and two children, of Portland, have been visiting Mrs. Ray Frost for several days. Mr. Worthen came Friday for the week end and Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Andrews and daughter, Margaret, of Dover, N. H., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Andrews over the week end and holiday. "Jake" will appear as end man in the American Legion Minstrels in Norway, next week.

The water commission is back in the regular quarters at the Pine Street fire station.

"The Shack," a small refreshment stand near the road to West Paris, has been bought by Emil Whitman. An addition has been put on for living accommodations.

About thirty-five of the D. O. K. K. of Auburn attended the regular meeting of Hamlin Lodge K. of P., Friday evening.

The next meeting of the women's division of the South Paris Farm Bureau will be held at the Grange Hall, June 8. Tea wagons is the project to be taken up and anyone wishing to make one is asked to notify Mrs. Roy Thomas, in order that the necessary materials may be ordered.

A. S. Wright of Portland was in town Wednesday, exhibiting a Dodge Senior Six for O. K. Clifford Co. This is the first of its kind to be shown in South Paris and only four have been received in Maine, to date.

Rinaldo Wiggin has been graduated from the Lowell Institute School in the mechanical engineering course. This school is under the auspices of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a graduate of the General Electric Co. technical school and has permanent employment with that company. His parents, Mr and Mrs. Fred B. Wiggin, attended the graduation exercises at Cambridge, Mass.

A delightful dancing party was given by Mrs. L. L. Mason at Masonoll, Thursday evening, with some forty or fifty guests. There was music by Shaw's Orhestra of five pieces. The rooms were attractively decorated with apple blossoms, daffodils, and other flowers. As a diversion each guest was asked to relate the most interesting, thrilling, or amusing incident in his or her life which could be condensed into the space of a minute of time or a little more, the relating of these incidents added much to the pleasure of the evening. Buffet refreshments of punch, sandwiches, etc., were served. War songs, both of the civil war and the great war, were sung in the intervals between the dances.

"Mammy's Lil' Wild Rose," the comedy drama, will be presented at West Paris this Thursday evening.

At an extra session of the Sixty-three Club, which was held with Mr. and Mrs. Earle Farnham, Thursday evening, Mrs. Elsie Barnes was presented a number of things to replace some of those lost in the fire.

Mrs. Eva Titus, who attended the Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at Portland, was appointed district deputy of the Third District, comprising Norway, West Paris, Bryant's Pond, Bethel, Rumford, Dixfield, Canton, Lovell, Waterford, Fryeburg and Denmark.

RADIO TROUBLE

Uncle Nathan had been sort of ailing
For about a week or more;
His head felt kind of dizzy
And all of his joints were sore.
He arose one morning early
And says, "Good wife, today
I think I will go to town.
Also call and see Dr. Jose by the way."
But his ride in the crisp cool air
Cleared the cobwebs all out of his head.
So he neglected to see the Doctor
And purchased a radio instead.
He reached home somewhat excited
And when his dear wife he espied,
He shouted, "I've got a radio."
"O merciful Lord!" she cried.
"I knew your trouble was serious,
Does it really endanger your life,
Is it anything I will catch,
Or can it be removed with a knife?
Shall I put on a mustard poultice?
If I had only known this before."
"Sarah! Calm down and be quiet.
The Radio is just outside of the door."

Killed at Madison, N. H.

Train Came Upon the Auto Party at Blind Crossing

Four residents of Kezar Falls were instantly killed and four others were injured, two of them seriously, at a little after five o'clock Monday afternoon, when a closed automobile in which they were returning home after a pleasure trip to Lake Winnepesaukee and other points, was struck at Madison Boulder Crossing by a Boston and Maine passenger train.

The dead are: Mrs. Louise Spring, 21, wife of Gerald Spring, owner and driver of the machine. Mrs. Vera Day, 27, wife of Harold Day. Arlene Day, nine, daughter. Junior Day, two year old son.

All of the injured were taken to the Memorial Hospital at North Conway.

Spring, the owner of the automobile, is on the danger list at that institution, having a fractured skull and other injuries, and an operation was performed on his skull soon after his arrival.

Harley Day, aged eight, son of the Days, has a fractured thigh and there is a possibility that he also has a fracture of the base of the skull. While his condition is serious, it is believed that he may recover.

Harold Day, 28, has a fractured arm and multiple contusions, but his condition is not considered critical.

Merle Day, seven, another of the Day children, was bruised considerably, but his injuries are not serious.

The party of eight left their home at Kezar Falls Monday morning, and after visiting Lake Winnepesaukee, they started home, visiting several towns on the way.

As soon as possible, the train was brought to a stop, and the two men and the two children who had been injured were placed in a car and the train was backed to North Conway, where they were hurried to the hospital.

Both families involved in the accident were widely known at Kezar Falls and its vicinity, and when the news reached their home town it caused a great shock to their friends.

Spring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Spring, and Day is the son of Seth Day, one of the selectmen of the town of Porter. Mrs. Day was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spring.

RADIO TROUBLE

Uncle Nathan had been sort of ailing
For about a week or more;
His head felt kind of dizzy
And all of his joints were sore.
He arose one morning early
And says, "Good wife, today
I think I will go to town,
Also call and see Dr. Jose by the way."
But his ride in the crisp cool air
Cleared the cobwebs all out of his head
So he neglected to see the Doctor
And purchased a radio instead.
He reached home somewhat excited
And when his dear wife he espied,
He shouted, "I've got a radio."
"O merciful Lord!" she cried.
"I know your trouble was serious,
Does it really endanger your life,
Is it anything I will catch,
Or can it be removed with a knife?
Shall I put on a mustard poultice?
If I had only known this before."
"Sarah! Calm down and be quiet,
The Radio is just outside of the door"
—M. R. P.

CENTER LOVELL

George Williams Dead

George Williams, 65, originator of the lighting effect on the Statue of Liberty, New York business man, and for forty years a summer visitor at Kezar Lake, died Wednesday, May 25, at the Maine General Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Williams was at Kezar Lake enjoying a fishing trip when he was stricken with acute intestinal trouble and was brought to the hospital here. An operation was performed without avail.

His body accompanied by business associates of New York was sent to his home in New York City where the funeral services were held at at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Although a Canadian by birth, Mr. Williams had lived most of his life in the States. He was a Spanish War Veteran, a member of the Elks Lodge, No. 1, of New York City, a Mason, and a Shriner. His widow survives.

Killed at Madison, N. H.

Train Came Upon the Auto Party at Blind Crossing

Four residents of Kezar Falls were instantly killed and four others were injured, two of them seriously, at a little after five o'clock Monday afternoon, when a closed automobile in which they were returning home after a pleasure trip to Lake Winnepesaukee and other points, was struck at Madison Boulder Crossing by a Boston and Maine passenger train.

The dead are: Mrs. Louise Spring, 21, wife of Gerald Spring, owner and driver of the machine. Mrs. Vera Day, 27, wife of Harold Day. Arlene Day, nine, daughter. Junior Day, two year old son.

All of the injured were taken to the Memorial Hospital at North Conway.

Spring, the owner of the automobile, is on the danger list at that institution, having a fractured skull and other injuries, and an operation was performed on his skull soon after his arrival.

Harley Day, aged eight, son of the Days, has a fractured thigh and there is a possibility that he also has a fracture of the base of the skull. While his condition is serious, it is believed that he may recover.

Harold Day, 28, has a fractured arm and multiple contusions, but his condition is not considered critical.

Merle Day, seven, another of the Day children, was bruised considerably, but his injuries are not serious.

The party of eight left their home at Kezar Falls Monday morning, and after visiting Lake Winnepesaukee, they started home, visiting several towns on the way.

As soon as possible, the train was brought to a stop, and the two men and the two children who had been injured were placed in a car and the train was backed to North Conway, where they were hurried to the hospital.

Both families involved in the accident were widely known at Kezar Falls and its vicinity, and when the news reached their home town it caused a great shock to their friends.

Spring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Spring, and Day is the son of Seth Day, one of the selectmen of the town of Porter. Mrs. Day was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spring.

Rev. Francis E. Clark Dead

Father of the Christian Endeavor Movement Died at Seventy-Six Years of Age

The Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, known the world over as "the father of Christian Endeavor" died May 27, at his home in Massachusetts. The founder of the great Young People's Religious movement, had been ill several weeks. He was in his 76th year.

Up to the time of a visit to Florida early this year in the hope of benefitting his health he had been daily at his desk in the Christian Endeavor House in Boston. He returned home a month ago. On the last of his many journeys to all parts of the world, he attended Christian Endeavor conventions in several countries last year and addressed the world convention of the society in London, last July.

Dr. Clark resigned the presidency of the international society of Christian Endeavor two years ago, but maintained his active interest in the work of the movement which was founded 46 years ago when he was pastor of the Williston Congregational Church in Portland.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. William F. Chase of West Newton, and three sons, Professor Eugene F. Clark of Dartmouth College, Harold Clark, headmaster of a school in New Jersey, and Sidney A. Clark of Boston.

Dr. Clark was born of New England parentage at Aylmer, Province of Quebec, Sept. 12, 1851, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Symmes. His father died when Francis was two years old and his mother eight years later. It was at that time that his uncle, the Rev. E. W. Clark, adopted him, and the boy took the family name of his uncle. He received his early education in the schools of Claremont, N. H., where his uncle lived, and later attended Kimball Academy in Meriden, N. H. Entering Dartmouth College in 1869, he graduated in 1873, following which he pursued the study of theology at Andover Seminary, graduating from the same.

His first pastorate was in Portland, where he became pastor of Williston then a small mission which under his pastoral guidance became one of the leading churches of the city, and a prominent church in the denomination in the State. He later became pastor of Phillips Congregational Church in South Boston.

It was in February, 1881, that Dr. Clark formed the first Christian Endeavor Society, an organization in which he gave personal pastoral training and oversight. The idea was copied in other churches of the denomination and even in other denominations, with the result that steps were considered for forming a National society. With the movement for this culminating in the organization of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, Dr. Clark became its active head, and with Mrs. Clark gave personal direction to the organizing of societies of young people in churches of all evangelistical denominations. From this country the influence of the United Society spread to other countries, and the National and international conventions of the organization became events attended by thousands of registered delegates.

In addition to the varied administrative duties as president of the United Society, Dr. Clark found time to write, and was the author of many books on topics of a religious nature, and was in frequent demand for public addresses. He took special interest in visits to Portland, the scene of the formation of the first Christian Endeaor Society.

Throughout his work as head of the United Society he refused to accept a salary, supporting himself by his books and other writings. He was always a man of modest circumstances, but took pride in giving of his time and strength to the work to which he early in life consecrated his time.

Dr. Clark was ever especially interin the promotion of the cause of prohibition. He sought through his organization to promote a growing interest also in missions, both home and foreign, and in every other line of moral and spiritual service.

On Oct. 3, 1876, Dr. Clark married Miss Harriet E. Abbott, daughter of a Congregational minister, and she was throughout his life an able co-worker in the pastorate in the Christian Endeavor work as well.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Watsons Here from Haverhill—Mrs. Eugene Nelson Injured Shoulder in Fall—Local Visitors.

Dr. Harry M. Watson wife and daughters, Eleanor and Edith, motored from Haverhill, Mass., to our village on Friday and spent Memorial with his mother, Mrs. M. Etta Watson. Mr. Watson and the girls will return home on Tuesday, leaving Mrs. Agnes Watson here for a week, when the doctor will drive down for her.

Mrs. Archie Bell has gone to the hospital for treatment this past week.

Mrs. Ella F. M. Roberts has gone to Cumberland Mills to visit her nieces. She went back with Frank Parker on his Wednesday trip. Mrs. Roberts has been spending the winter with Mrs. Watson.

On Friday, Mrs. Eugene Nelson tripped on a rug and fell, dislocating a shoulder, which has put her in bed. Her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Brackett and husband, of West Medford, Mass., came on Saturday. Mrs. Brackett is to return with her husband on Tuesday and later is to come back to care for her mother. Mrs. Fannie Green and her niece, Miss Margaret McKeen, who are trained nurses, will lend aid until Mrs. Brackett's return.

Rev. F. B. Lyman and wife of Naples, were in town on Tuesday, May 24th, and planted a garden for Mrs. Martha Perry. It was a great help for Mrs. Perry is in her 85th year.

Miss Margaret McKeen, a trained nurse from Plymouth, Mass., is visiting at her aunt's, Mrs. Fannie Green's. Is here for a much needed rest.

Mrs. W. E. Abbott came back home on Wednesday from Norway, where she had been caring for her mother, who has been ill with acute indigestion.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cross are receiving congratulations over the birth of an 8 lb. boy on Saturday. Mrs. Cross is at Mr. Cross' old home in Bridgton.

W. E. Abbott and family spent Memorial Day in North Paris.

Many beautiful flowers were taken to Elm Vale Cemetery on Sunday and Memorial.

Mrs. M. Etta Watson, Mrs. Ella F. M. Roberts, Mrs. A. A. Monroe, and Ethel M. Monroe motored to Norway and and South Paris on Thursday. Three of these ladies had not been out of town for months.

William Jenkins, wife and daughter, Jane, of Norway, were in town Sunday, greeting many of their old friends.

Augusta Pike, that was, husband and little daughter of New Hampshire, spent the week end of May 21st, at her old home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Bion Pike.

Miss Marion Rowe and Miss Marjorie Johnson, the teachers at North Waterford, were recent visitors at Miss Monroe's. Miss Monroe boarded in Miss Johnson's home for four years the last years of her teaching.

Homer Brown of Harrison spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Harriet Brown.

Hugh Cousins, who drives the cream truck for Harry Haynes, has been ill with the grippe. Mr. Haynes has been covering the route during his illness.

Next Grange meeting comes on Saturday, June 4th. We shall look for a very fine program as Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sanderson have charge of it. Usually Mr. Sanderson gets a public speaker.

Many of the cottages were occupied over the holidays. Soon many will be open for the summer.

Mrs. Ida A. Holden, our post-mistress, has been suffering from the shingles in her face and neck. She is slowly recovering. Very hard to feel so badly and have to keep about as she has.

This old world is in its height of spring glory. Wonder how many are pausing in the rush and bustle of life to drink in the beauty and grandeur of God's handiwork!

The Watson family motored to Mechanic Falls on Sunday, and called on many old friends there. They found John Monroe in very poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Warren of Portland, spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hamlin.

Stuart Parker and his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Cooke of Haverhill, Mass., were in town over Memorial.

Services at the church, Sunday evening, were in charge of Rev. A. C. Townsend and Rev. B. F. Wentworth. Mr. Wentworth gave a very interesting talk on Conditions in China.

Kindergarten Founder

On January 4, 1894, occurred the death of the founder and originator of the first kindergarten system. Her name was Elizabeth Peabody, and, so far as records state, there were no kindergartens in existence before her time.

See That Beater!

It's mounted on the axle—that's why the John Deere is easier on you, easier on your horses, does better work and lasts longer.

There are more John Deere spreaders in use in most agricultural territories than any other make. There is a reason. The beater-on-the-axle construction has made possible the only vital improvements in spreader construction since the first commercially successful spreader was built in 1878. The John Deere gives you spreader advantages that have been needed for years.

JOHN DEERE SPREADER

The patented beater construction gives you these distinctive advantages:

1. A box 6 to 10 inches lower than others—much easier to load.
2. High drive wheels—4 to 8 inches higher than others—gives extra traction—extra power. Load moves back to beater on rollers—saves the horses.
3. The simplest spreader built—no clutches, no chains, no adjustments for you to make—reduces repair bills—the spreader lasts years longer.
4. Beater close to ground—does not throw manure high in air—winds do not cause drifting of manure—does better work. Patented revolving rake prevents bunching.

Come in and see this better spreader—there are many other features on it we want to show you.

Obituary

Harriet Eliza Barrows Charles

After several weeks of illness, Mrs. H. E. Charles passed away May 15, at the home of her youngest son, Frank Barrows Charles, at Washington, D. C. She was born in Norway, Oct. 23rd, 1835, the daughter of Benjamin and Eliza Barrows. She was educated at the Norway Liberal Institute and taught school in the schoolhouse now used as the lower primary. She married Asa G. Charles, of Fryeburg, in 1854, and lived in Norway until 1878, when they moved to Lowell, Mass., afterward moved to Chelmsford, where Mr. Charles died Oct. 29, 1921 when she gave up the home and went to live with her son. She leaves four sons, Walter G., Fred S., Wm. A., Frank B.; two grandchildren, Mrs. Mildred Pillsbury, daughter of Fred S. Charles, of Allston; Robert F. Charles, son of W. A. Charles, South Acton, Mass., and one grandson, Charles Pillsbury; one niece, Mrs. Maggie Libby, and nephew, Howard B. Young. She has written many sketches and poems, many of them being published in this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knight and Mary, of Manchester, Mass., were at their camp for several days. They expect to return to Lake Pennesseewassee for the summer about June 25.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horne, with their daughter Mrs. Florence Davis, and Mr. Brown, of Portland, were here Monday calling on relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paragard of Lynn, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Ridlon, over the week end.

Louis Keene, of Haverhill, Mass., visited his aunt, Mrs. Rossie Monk, and cousins, Mrs. Oneil Brown and Alfred Monk over the week end. Sunday, they went to Wayne to visit cemeteries where relatives are buried.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapham were at Rangeley Lakes over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Curtis were at their cottage, "Okrest," Stoneham, over the holiday. Miss Mildred Curtis was in Portland for the day, Monday.

Mrs. Alta Sheen of Limerick was in town, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. French have been spending a few days in town.

Mrs. Frank Oxnard of West Medford, Mass, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Forrest Longley.

The ladies of the local Farm Bureau will meet June 8th, at Grange Hall for the June meeting and the subject will be Home Furnishings, continued. The last meeting on this subject was very interesting, and those present know the importance of these meetings and have been telling those who were absent. The committee for the dinner will include Mrs. Ada Cox, Mrs. Harriet Brown and Mrs. Kate Bennett. The Home Demonstration Agent will be present.

The Daughters of Veterans held regular meeting, Friday evening, and made plans to attend Department Convention in Augusta, Tuesday, June 7th. It is expected there will be quite a delegation to go, and Mrs. Bertha Noyes was appointed to make arrangements for transportation, and she asks all members who intend to go to let her know by Friday night at the latest. The Daughters assisted in making wreaths for Memorial Day and about 200 were made.

Henry Favor has been chosen delegate to attend National Convention of the Y. P. C. U. from the local union of the First Universalist Church. The convention this year is held in Minneapolis, Minnesota, the first of July, and Mr. Favor has been invited by the Rev. Stanley Manning, to accompany him and a party traveling in Mr. Manning's car which will mean a three weeks trip by automobile.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

A cup of water placed in the oven when a fruit cake is baking helps to keep the right amount of moisture in the air and to prevent the cake from drying out.

If you have some jelly which is not firm enough to use on the table, it will do in the place of cider or grape juice in fruit cake or mincemeat.

When you are having an afternoon party and want to serve baking-powder biscuits, cut the biscuit dough into very small rounds. Moisten the top of one biscuit with a little rich milk, and place a second biscuit on top of it. When baked these tea biscuits are attractive in shape, easy to open, and delicious spread with butter or served with honey or preserves.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will send you free for the asking, a bulletin on selection of cotton fabrics. Good, practical information you'll find in it for use at the February white sales.

If you are using figured curtains in a room, choose a material with a background the same color of the walls but slightly darker The principal color in the design of the curtain material should repeat the color of the rug, or upholstery. Use figured curtains only when the walls give a plain effect.

All bean soups should have a little flour added to them as a binder, to prevent the thick part from settling to the bottom.

When you cut up material for salads, make the pieces large enough so that you know what you are eating, and small enough to be dainty. Do not mix with the dressing until serving time, except in the case of those salads which call for special treatment.

COMMON SENSE DIETING

While it is generally conceded that scientific study of food values is unquestionably conducive to health, there is a tendency among certain groups of marked intelligence to ridicule the findings of conscientious students and those who have taken their experimenting as a serious work.

The diet Institute in New York has issued a reminder that it is not the part of wisdom to laugh at reputable dietitians who bid us balance our rations in order to obtain the proportions found best adapted to the smooth function of that greatest of all machines—the human body.

The institute ventures the opinion that four out of five housewives habitually serve food in the wrong proportions, which suggests that a reasonable study of dietetics would be a profitable program for every home in the land.

Common sense in dieting is not a fad or a cult. Women who have been influenced by the present vogue for slimness and straight lines in the feminine figure, have practiced dieting in an effort to reduce their bodies to what they believe to be the fashionable and therefore the desired shape. Extremes have been noted as in the case of a young woman of the West, who died after fasting for more than a month. Another young woman who lived for days on black coffee, lettuce and orange juice is an invalid, after a long period of intense pain.

The wise woman will guard against such fanaticism and foolishness and will apply the findings of science to her choice of foods. Undoubtedly those who have reached maturity have learned by experience that some kinds of food agree with them while others do not. The average American woman, exercising her birthright of common sense, will not go so violently against nature as to hurt herself.

PEELING ONIONS

Pour hot water over onions, allow them to remain for a few minutes, then drain and pour cold water over them. Then the skins can be removed easily.

South Paris High School Notes

At the Junior High School Assembly on Tuesday morning Principal Fuller presented the basketball insignia of the Junior High Athletic Association to the boys and girls who earned these letters in the past season. The insignia include a 5 inch letter "P" with 3 inch letters "J" and "H". The names of the students earning the awards are Reginald Hammond, Chester Pratt, Albert Judd, Frank Card, Francis Martin, Preston Cummings, Gerald Walker, Hazel Mosher, Greta Merril, Lucy Morse, Isabella Fleming and Eleanor Haskell. Letters were also presented to the coaches, Charlie Stiles and Miss Arvilla Peabody.

The Student Council under the leadership of the president, Matti Lundell, is holding weekly meetings and supervising projects of considerable value to the school. Working committees have been selected with each member of the Council the chairman of a committee, the committees with thee chairman or each are as follows:

Grounds—Albion Pratt.
Music—Mabelle Slattery.
Scholarship—Martha Barrows.
Athletics—Royce Dean.
Chapel—Marion Allen.
Fire Drill—Frank Strobeck.
School Spirit—Doris Marston.
Building—Angie Caswell.

The Chapel and Music Committees prepared an excellent student chapel for Wednesday, May 25th. At this time the Student Council was seated on the platform.

Program:

Star Spangled Banner
Oath of Allegiance
Scripture and Lord's Prayer	Martha Barrows
French Club Paper	Rama Judd
Piano Duet	Barbara Beede, Reta Shaw
Theme	Stella Mills
"The Cry of the Children"	Letty Proctor
Song	School

Student Assemblies will be held on Thursday, June 2, and Wednesday, June 8th. The public is cordially invited to attend those assemblies.

The music department is preparing for a recital to be held in the Assembly Room of the High School on Tuesday evening, June 6th. There will be music by the high school orchestra, song by combined glee clubs, including songs used at the Music Festival in Lewiston, solos both instrumental and vocal as well as duets and special features. The object is to give an exhibition of the work as well as to get money for the expense of taking the glee clubs to Lewiston.

Principal Fuller Has Resigned

Carleton S. Fuller, principal of South Paris High School for four years, has resigned to take a similar position at Fort Fairfield High School, in Aroostook County.

Mr. Fuller has been unusually successful as a teacher and director of athletics, having placed the school on a sound foundation that has developed personal responsibility, mental and moral fitness, and good sportsmanship in every department.

Mr. Fuller was graduated from Bates College in 1915 and taught at Bridgton Academy and Buckfield High School before coming here. He was a star infielder while in college and summers he played semi-professional baseball on the Maine teams, where his ability has been proven to many fans.

Mrs. Georgie Carll and Mr. and Mrs. William McPherson and son, of Westbrook, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ordway of Bryant Pond were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ordway.

A reception was given Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Staples at the Methodist church, Tuesday evening. The vestry was very prettily decorated. In the receiving line were Rev. and Mrs. Staples, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Davis, and Dr. C. L. Buck. The program included a solo by Miss Emma West, a violin selection by Arthur Cote and remarks by Rev. W. E. Bryant, the Universast minister, Rev. E. B. Tetley, the Baptist minister and Mr Woodbury for the Congregational church. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. L. C. Smiley arrived Memorial Day from Southern Pines. She is visiting relatives in Buckfield.

Miss Manter, music instructor in the South Paris schools has signed a contract to teach next year in Connecticut.

The Mother and Daughter Banquet will be held Thursday evening, June 2. Mrs. Philip Chapman will be the speaker.

Elm Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce McAister entertained a family party Sunday and celebrated four birthdays that of Mrs. McAlister's father, Calvin Plummer, his grandson, Perley Whitney, great-grandson, Manley Rolfe and great- granddaughter, Erma Shaw. PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST VOICES

National Radio Audition Open to Young Singers in This Country.

America's future generation of vocal stars will be disclosed to the world this Fall as another of the wonders due to radio. Every young man or woman with the gift of song, whether from country, town or city, will have an equal chance.

A nation-wide quest for the best young singers and the opening of the door of opportunity to them has been undertaken by the Atwater Kent Foundation, an institution established for scientific and educational purposes by A. Atwater Kent, the Philadelphia radio manufacturer and sponsor of the Sunday night grand opera hour, broadcast over a network of nineteen stations.

The Foundation has announced plans for a "National Radio Audition," to find by competition the best undiscovered voices in the United States. Prizes aggregating $17,500, with tuition for a musical education in certain cases, are offered as follows:

The two winners of first place in the National Audition—a man and a woman—will each receive a gold decoration, $5,000 in cash and two years' tuition in a leading conservatory.

A. Atwater Kent,

Winners of second prizes will each receive $2,000 in cash and one year's tuition.

Winners of third prizes will each receive $1,000 and one year's tuition.

Winners of fourth prizes will each receive $500.

Winners of fifth prizes will each receive $250.

Musical, civic and women's clubs in each community in each state will be invited to hold local contests to select the best young man and best young woman singers of their towns. These winners will then be certified to a state audition, which will be broadcast by a radio station in each state. A state winner of each sex will be chosen and will receive a silver medal.

The next step is a district audition. The young men and women who have won state honors will be taken to a central broadcasting station in one of five districts, where an audition will be broadcast to select the two winners—a young man and a young woman—from that district.

The two winners in each district will receive gold medals and the ten finalists thus selected will be taken to New York for the final National Audition, to be broadcast over a national network of stations. All expenses of contestants in the district and final auditions, including railroad fare, hotel bills, entertainment, etc., will be paid by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

The spirit and purpose of the National Audition are indicated in a statement by A. Atwater Kent, president of the Foundation, who said:

"The discovery of one of those rare voices, of which each generation produces a very few, seems to me an event of profound national importance. Even when such a voice could give pleasure to only a few thousand people in a year it was a national treasure. Now that millions may enjoy it on the same evening through the medium of radio, such a voice has become priceless.

"The National Radio Audition, supported by the Atwater Kent Foundation, is an undertaking to search the entire country for beautiful voices and to offer these singers an opportunity for full development, recognition and reward."

The principal qualifications for contestants are as follows:

Must not be over 25 years old; must never have been associated with a professional theatrical or operatic company; must never have been a paid principal in any concert held outside their own states; must declare an intention to follow a musical career and must be free from theatrical or musical contracts.

This limitation permits choir singers to enter the auditions, even though they may have received financial compensation for singing in churches. Other groups from which entries are anticipated are students in musical schools and locally prominent singers in high schools and colleges. Musical organizations in each state are also afforded an opportunity to participate.

The Rack

The secretary of the golf club had been having a thoroughly bad morning, not only with the committee, but with various members.

He was touched when a nervously polite, obviously new member, approached him.

"Do you mind telling me where I can hang my coat and hat? I've only just joined, and I don't know my way about yet."

"Hang 'em on me, old chap," was the answer. "I'm the secretary."

Myths in American History

No. 4

THE FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY

By C. F. Whitman

It may be that within ten centuries George Washington will be reverenced by large masses of people next to Deity.

While in the hospital, six years ago, the writer read a book of which a Polish Jewess was the author. She related how the family had suffered with other Jews, great persecution on account of their religious faith in Russia and what trials they had undergone in getting out of the country and into a land of freedom. She was then a child and after a home had been established in America she had been sent to school where she acquired the ways and ideas of American children.

Upon growing up she renounced the religion of her people. The one person she came to reverence next to the Supreme Ruler of the universe was George Washington, through whose efforts and influence this country was made free and constitutional government established.

Abraham Lincoln once gave an address on Washington. He exalted him above all other men. Undoubtedly the Great George had very much to do in forming the political faith and ideas of government of Abraham Lincoln. He never thought during his whole life of comparing himself to the Father of his Country, nor should we be blinded by the tragedy of his death. He has his place, glorious beyond measure, shining brighter and brighter down through the ages next to Washington.

The "canting hypocrite, Weems, who on occasion, could preach about moral rectitude and at county fairs, fiddle behind screens and play the mountebanke," set afloat a number of curious and remarkable things about Washington's boyhood and characteristics, which as the great man and his mother had passed away, they could not well contradict.

Weems exalted Washington's physical qualities, and made him out a goody, goody boy, who could not tell a lie or swear, and in fact, was not at all like other boys. It may well be believed that he was brought up to have a sacred regard for truth, a respect for himself, respect and affection for his parents, and a distaste for vulgarity and profanity. He was a man of strong passions but he had them well under control, but if he had occasion to let them loose his wrath descended upon the offender as upon Gen. Charles Lee, at Monmouth, who had disobeyed his orders, like an avalanche from a mountain side, crushing all before it. It may here be said that Lee never recovered from Washington's blasting denunciation.

Jefferson stated that while he was Secretary of State in Washington's Cabinet, "he swore by the Living God, he regretted every day of his life that he ever accepted the office of President." This is a real condemnation of Jefferson, whose opposition to the views of the President had caused him to say what he did.

Washington Irving, who wrote a history of Washington, memions in it only one of Parson Weem's remarkable feats of the Father of his Country, but in this way: "A place is pointed out below Fredericksburg, where he is said to have thrown a stone across the Rappahannock." As Irving was silent about the cherry tree story, he evidently did not put much credence in its truthfulness.

A lady in Norway claims to possess a piece of the cherry tree that Washington hacked or cut down when he was too young to know any better. This is carrying credence to the breaking point. The incident of the cutting of the tree is stated to have been before the father's death which took place when his boy was eleven years old, and every vestige of the original cherry tree must have disappeared long before any one had begun collecting relics or mementoes of Washington.

With a large party of sight seers the writer visited Mount Vernon in October 1889. He was shown a magnolia tree, planted by Washington himself, which was the only one or only shrub the great man had planted on his estate, then in existence. This tree, on account of its age, was nearly dead. I picked up a leaf on the ground under its branches, which I still have. It was dry and cracked, evidently the last production of the dying magnolia. The writer obtained two sprigs from a weeping willow tree, the sprouts of which were taken from Napoleon's grave on St. Helena, and brought to Mt. Vernon by Lafayette in 1825 and set out in moist land. The tree and another like it though over 60 years old.

It is not to be supposed that Weems ever read the description of the Emperor Charlemagne by one, John Turpin, but this is in the same thought of vainglory of physical development and prowess. Turpin stated that his hero, in height, was eight of his own feet which were long. His face was thirteen inches long and his forehead was twelve inches broad and so strong and powerfully built that he could lift an armored man from the ground to the height of his head, with one hand. Tht he could vault over four horses abreast and could cleave at one blow, both a rider and his horse.

No one who is capable of sifting out truth from error, credits the story of the great ruler. He has come down to us, not for his physical development and prowess but for his talents as a statesman, an able executive, a wise ruler, and a patron of learning. And Washington will go down to future ages as the great leader in making our country free, and establishing constitutional government on a lasting basis. As a man he was upright, exact to the standard he had set up for his rule of conduct, devotedly unselfish to duty, an affectionate son to his mother, and a faithful husband. In short he was as near perfection as human nature can be expected to be. He was the man to do the work of his time. He did it so well, that, as all agree, no one but he could have accomplished and but for him, Independence and Constitutional Government, must have failed.

NORTH WATERFORD

Memorial Services

Memorial Services were held Sunday morning at the Congregational church by Rev. B. F. Wentworth. The George M. Knight W. R. C. attended in a body. Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, a flag which was presented by Mrs. Martha Black was raised at half mast on the common by the only remaining Veteran of Waterford, Dustin McAlister. The flag salute was given and the Star Spangled Banner sung. Members of the W. R. C. then went to East Stoneham and united with the Daughters of Veterans in the ceremony at the cemetery also for the Sailor Soldier and the Unknown Dead.

Then all went to the dining hall where a very fine dinner was served by the Daughters of Veterans.

In the afternoon, the following program was given:

Singing, Star Spangled Banner	All
Song, Keller's Hymn	Primary School
Flag Drill	Grammar School
Wand Drill	Primary School
Song, The Flag That Never Retreated	Primary School
Song, Tulip Time	Grammar Girls
Song, The Flag	Grammar School
Memorial Song	North Waterford School
Song, Battle Hymn of the Republic	All
Address	Rev Mr. Townsend
Singing, America	All
Benediction	Rev. B. F. Wentworth

Miss Marjorie Johnson, the Grammar school teacher, spent the week end at her home in Portland, and on her way back Monday afternoon, she had the misfortune to loose a number plate, spare tire and carrier, also the tail light from her Chevrolet coupe.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Memorial Exercises Well Attended—Mrs. Dunham from Massachusetts Visited Friends—Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings Arrived from California.

Memorial Day was more largely observed than for years. The wheels of business were closed and people paused to do homage to our noble veterans. Shaw's band was in attendance at the floral service at the bridge. After the children sang, "Scatter The Flowers" the wreaths and flowers were strewn upon the water in memory of our sailor dead Prayer was offered by Rev. Miss Forbes. In the line marching to the cemetery were fifty-five children with the soldiers and Daughters of Union Veterans. Comrades E. G. Doble and Alvin Lovejoy were able to be present. Comrade Charles Dunham, having so recently lost his wife, did not feel like attending. Three soldiers' widows, Mrs. Columbia Dunham, Mrs. Lydia Perkins and Mrs. Orpha Ring were with us. As the band sounded "taps" the children knelt and decorated the graves with flags and wreaths. Fifty wreaths were made and used. The exercises in Centennial Hall were in charge of Alanson Cummings of the American Legion a sailor in the Navy during the World War and just returned from California where he had been for a year and a half. Selections by the band, recitations by Alma and Hilma Mikkonen: "Hats Off, The Flag is Passing By;" prayer by Rev. E. H. Stover; songs by Misses Emily West and Reta Shaw of South Paris; and a very interesting address by Hon. Alton C. Wheeler of South Paris. Shaw's Band was greatly enjoyed. The stage and hall were very prettily decorated with the large flags and flowers. Dinner was served to the patriotic orders and their families. Many attended the exercises at Bryant's Pond in the afternoon.

The Fifth Sunday W. C. T. U. union service in charge of Mrs. Anna Perkins, was one of interest. The young people participated and learned many truths regarding the harm of strong drinks and tobacco.

Memorial Sunday at the Baptist church was a union service Rev. E. H. Stover preached the sermon of the morning. He spoke of memorials from Bible times down through the ages; of the monuments reared in memory of the events, of the leaders behind them and of God behind the leaders. Rev. E. B. Forbes assisted. A united chorus of the two young people's choirs led the congregational hymns and sang "The Darkness Shall Pass": a boy's unison solo with chorus and "Somewhere it is Always Morning"; a girl's unison solo with alto obligato duet chorus. The Tent attended in a body.

Sunday evening was a union Temperance Meeting and Mrs. Anna B. Perkins committee in charge had a very fine program with the young people.

Mrs. Jennie Brown Dunham from East Saugus, Mass., came last Saturday night and spent a few days visiting Mrs. Annie Rowe and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings arrived last Friday, May 27th, at 6 A. M., from California. They started the 8th of May in their car. The same car that they went out there in a year and a half ago. They stopped over one day at Grand Canyon and one day at Niagara; the rest of the time they just kept busy traveling (or motoring) even night and day towards the last of the journey. A man from Bryant's Pond came home with them, who took turns driving. They arrived as a surprise for their people did not expect them quite so soon.

Thelma Verge was here Memorial Day from Norway.

The next regular Grange meeting will be a Memorial meeting.

Ruth Cole and Helen Packard came home from Farmington Normal School for the Memorial recess.

Principal D. A. Libby went to his home in Scarborough, over Memorial. His family went with him and remained. He has his household goods packed to move there as the school year is about over. Mr. Libby is planning to return in the fall for another school year.

M. E. Williams, station agent, has moved his family into the rent on the second floor of the sanatorium.

BRIDGTON

Rebekah Lodge Worked Degree at South Paris—Big Ben Camp Sold—Dr. Abbott Catches 9 1-2 Lb. Salmon—Children's Field Day.

Schools and business places were closed Monday, in observance of Memorial. Exercises of the day were of the usual order. The Memorial Sunday service was at the Methodist Church, with the Grand Army and allied organizations in attendance. Sermon was by Rev. Ernest F. Doughty, pastor of the church. The Memorial Day address was by the Rev. Wm. A. Richmond at the Congregational Church, of which he is pastor, and the High Street cemetery was decorated. Music for the day was furnished by the band from Fryeburg.

Eudora Rebekah Lodge degree team went to South Paris Friday evening where they worked the degree on Mt. Pleasant Lodge of that town. Members of the degree team are Noble Grand, Mrs. Beatrice Davis; Vice Grand, Mrs. Kathleen Halkett; Past Grand, Mrs. Myrtie McCann; Chaplain, Mrs. Cora Searles.

Elmer H. Brackett of Fryeburg, and son-in-law, Thomas Halkett, of Bridgton, have purchased the "Big Ben Camp" on Moose Pond, formerly the McAllister sporting camp.

Burton H. Thomas, head of the commercial department of the Western Maine Power Co., moved this week, with his family, into the Laurence Howard bungalow, on Cottage Street, which he has purchased.

Dr. E. S. Abbott is the champion fisherman of Bridgton thus far this season, having pulled a 9 1-2 pound salmon out of Peabody Pond, Monday, the largest one caught thus far by a Bridgtonite.

Harry Corson of Auburn is visiting his brother, Walter Corson, and other relatives in town. Mr. Corson is recuperating from serious injuries sustained from falling down an elevator well, recently.

Rev. Herbert H. Holland of Allston, Mass., a recent graduate of Boston Theological School, has accepted th position of pastor of the Advent Church and assumed his duties there, Sunday.

Friends in town of Miss Beulah Towne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Towne, former residents of Bridgton, will be interested to hear of her engagement to Arthur Henderson of New York, a native of Fairfield. Miss Towne is at present teaching in Long Branch, New Jersey.

The annual baccalaureate services of Bridgton High School will be next Sunday at 7:30 p. m., at the Congregational Church. Sermon by Rev. Wm. A. Richmond, pastor of the church, and special music.

The Business and Professional Women's Club will hold their annual banquet next, Tuesday evening at the Proctor House, Naples. The number attending will probably be around forty.

Next Saturday will be observed as Field Day by the children of the Grammar School, with principal Mrs. Erna Adams in charge, assisted by her corps of teachers. There will be athletic sports of various kinds, and prizes will be awarded. The affair will be held on Bridgton Fair Grounds from 1:30 to 5 p. m. and at the close, a picnic supper will be eaten. This is the first event of this kind to be held in Bridgton and with the 200 pupils, who compose the school, it should be of sufficient interest to become an annual custom.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS

Oxford County boys' and girls' club enrollment jumped from 128 to 262 during the first half of the month of May. This gain of 134 is the largest increase made by any one county in the state and brings the county into third position for total enrollment.

York County stands first with 333, Twin County next with 319. Heretofore Twin County has consistently led all the counties in the state.

There were at the middle of the month a total of 3,109 club members as compared 3,093 a year ago on similar date.

It is expected that both Oxford County and the entire state will show a large increase in enrollment during the next two or three weeks.

NORWAY VICINITY

A special meeting of L. O. O. M. will be held Friday, June 3, at 8 P. M. There is important business that requires the attention of every member.

Skis and snowshoes are being manufactured in quantity at the W. F. Tubbs Co. with enough orders on file to keep a large crew going strong right up to fall trade. With skis alone on a 500 a day basis, the factory will keep on full time up to October. This is a large increase over last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Prince and children, Louise Thomas and Billy Smith were at Maxim's Camp in Hastings over the week end and holiday. Water in Wild River was too high for good fishing but they caught enough for their use.

Mrs. Etta Davis, Pearl St., entertained a party of relatives and acquaintances on Sunday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morgan, of West Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wing, Natick, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hadley, and son, Maurice, West Sumner; Tena Colburn, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bonney, William Keith, and sons, James, Leo, and Junior, all of Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Davis and daughter of Norway. A lunch with ice cream was served.

DIED IN REDWING

Mrs. Izah T. Whitman, widow of the late Prof. O. Whitman, at one time superintendent of Red Wing's public schools, died last week. Her death marks the passing of another of Red Wing's pioneers, she having resided here for 57 years.

Mrs. Whitman was a grand old lady who numbered her friends by the score. Always happy and always ready to cheer the down-hearted, she could see only the good side of life. Until a few years ago she made it a point to visit the down town district almost daily, doing her own shopping and spreading good cheer wherever she went. She will be greatly missed by a very large circle of friends.

Izah Tenney Hatch was born in Norway, Maine, on August 18, 1842, being past 84 years at the time of death. She was married in 1864 to Prof. O. Whitman of Buckfield, Maine, and was associated with him in teaching school until he came to Red Wing in 1870. He was named superintendent of schools here the same year and n 1871 his wife followed him to Red Wing. She taught in the public schools here as long as he remained superintendent, a period of about 19 years.

Mr. Whitman was also a prominent Mason and well known throughout the state. His death occurred several years ago.

Mrs. Whitman is the last of her family, two brothers and three sisters preceding her in death.

Funeral services were held at A. Swanson's Sons' chapel Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the remains were shipped to Maine that evening for interment there beside the body of Mr. Whitman. Funeral services, which were conducted by Rev. Buckton, were arranged by the local Masonic order which, since the death of Mr. Whitman, have looked after the care of Mrs. Whitman, who has been in more or less feeble health during her declining years.—Red Wing Paper.

SCOUT NEWS

Memorial Day, May 30, the Troop No. 1 of the Boy Scouts of America turned out in splendid order, looking spick and span in their Scout suits.

The Scouts gathered at the Congregational Church at 8:30 a. m. The troop was given a little drill and was dressed up by the Scoutmaster, Elsid G. Mattor. The troop fell in behind the American Legion, with the Campfire Girls in back of the Scouts. The parade marched down Paris Street to the cemetery, where the troop was then lined up in a double line. When the band played "America," the troop stood at attention.

The troop stood with bowed heads when a prayer was given by Rev. Pliny Allen of the Universalist Church of Norway.

The troop was formed in the same marching order as when they marched to the cemetery, and then marched back to Norway.

Memorial services were held at Witherell Park, where a wreath was placed on the monument. The band played the "Star Spangled Banner," then the troop stood at attention and saluted. The troop was then marched to the Grange Hall where all the patriotic organizations were served dinner.

The Scouts drilled hard and earnestly to be ready for Memorial. They will now take up Scouting work this summer.

The Troop will be glad to do anything to help organizations or people in the line of their duty.

STEPHENS PROPOSED IT

The idea of the floating university that has returned to the United States after a tour of the world with its students and faculty did not originate with the man in charge of the enterprise.

C. A. Stephens, a writer of stories for boys, suggested it in 1872. In "On the Amazon," published in that year, the last of a series of yachting stories, Mr. Stephens talked about a floating college in the course of the story, and in the preface he said: "We propose, in place of the present stationary colleges, a steamship fitted up and appointed as a college in all respects." And he asked those interested in the project to communicate with him.

Mr. Stephens is still alive, and there are doubtless many men familiar with the story when they were boys who remember their own longing to get an education in such an interesting way.—Phila Ledger.

Mrs. Bertha Evirs of Boston is the guest of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Evirs, for a few days.

Items from Worcester, Mass.

Interested in Oxford County News and the Advertiser

I am reminded that another year has gone and my subscription to the Norway Advertiser is almost due. If every subscription to magazines and papers were to be cancelled with only one to choose, I am sure it would be the Advertiser, for I look for its coming as I would look for a letter from a dear friend. Even the smallest item from the smallest town written by one unknown by name is always deeply appreciated. I always read the columns twice for fear something might have escaped my notice. A friend said to another friend that I "gloated" over the items from my old home town. I fully realized it was true, but when I remembered that to "gloat" is defined "gazing with eagerness and admiration," I think of it as a compliment rather than otherwise.

I am truly eager to hear all that happens in Waterford, Norway, Albany, Stoneham, Bethel, where I was once more or less acquainted.

I was deeply grieved at the death of Dr. Bradbury. Thirty-five years ago he led me through the shadow of an almost fatal illness and subsequently was a friend in need through many dark days. Truly a good man has gone to a rich reward, for he was ever ready to help the needy, rich and poor alike.

There are a number of my acquaintances and neighbors who are known to the readers of the Advertiser, and no doubt a word from them will be read as avidly as those from the old home towns.

Mrs. Rena C. Eaton once lived in Rumford and is well known in several Oxford County towns. She married one of Worcester's rich merchants, and lives an example of the saying: "He that is faithful over a few things, I will make him ruler over many things." Many of the Advertiser readers can testify how true this is in her case.

I often go to Holden, six miles from Worcester to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens who are well known in Oxford Co. and will have been married fifty years June 18 Mrs. Stevens was Emma Edgerly, and for fifteen years lived in the house that was burned, the site where Ed Farmer afterward built in North Waterford. Nellie Hobson was Emma's neighbor. She now lives in Boston but comes often to visit her friends in Worcester.

My nearest neighbor, Mrs. Edwin Harris, went every summer for eleven years, to Harrison, Maine. Since the death of her husband, she has sold the summer home near Will Seavey's in that town.

George H. Hill, a native of Harrison, is our Chief-of-Police, a much respected ruler of affairs in Worcester.

The population of Worcester is very cosmopolitan, See the following names of classmates of my grandson, Warren Holt Davenport: Eisentrout, Rasmussen, Dupsky, Hedburg, Lantz, Fortin, Helle, Christenson, Bleu, Groden, Sweeney, Havenesian, Goulet, Schuka. It is an appalling fact that the American race is dying. The foreigners are very quick to learn our language, and know how to get rich quick, and climb the social ladder.

When I came to Worcester, on the street nearby, was a pond, where boys sailed boats, swam in summer and skated in winter. It was the best place in the city for an athletic field. Yesterday a game of soccer was played with three thousand witnesses. It is now called Crescent Park and it is said there is none with more favorable situation.

At this point I might appropriately close my letter with these words. "To be continued in our next."

—Ella M. Davenport.

MOOSEHEAD FISHING

Large catches of salmon, trout and togue have been reported by fishermen in the Beaver Creek section of Moosehead Lake and the Moose River district. May 19, 34 salmon and 31 trout were caught in the Moose River district and May 21 and 22, 41 salmon and 32 trout were reported caught in the same place. The largest in this catch was eight pounds.

FACTS
about used car allowances

Most new car sales now involve the trading-in of a buyer's used car. More and more people are asking: "Why should my used car seem to have several values? .... Why should dealers in different makes of cars offer me allowances differing materially? .... Does the largest allowance offered mean the best deal for me?"

Here are basic facts:

1 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

2 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value: what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

3 The largest trade-in allowance which is offered on your used car is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; but sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

5 Judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your used car.

WHEN YOU are ready to trade-in your present car, remember that after all you are making a purchase and not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of a new car.

School Magazine

Caduceus Has Interesting Material

The June number of the Caduceus, published by the students of the Norway High School is off the press and for sale at newsstands. Copies may be obtained at the Opera House, this Thursday evening.

Of unusual interest are two reproductions in memory of the late Dr. Bial F. Bradbury, and the late Burton E. Barker, a member of the senior class.

Other half tones include the editorial board the senior section, the faculty and the boys' and girls' basket ball teams.

The literary department is made attractive with editorials; class history; address to undergraduates; salutatory in two parts; the class will; class poem; and ode; prophecy; class gifts and valedictory. Compositions of merit by undergraduates have a prominent place. Several pages devoted to French composition are interesting.

Naturally the School Notes and Jokes are attractive and have the so called "kick" which the students will appreciate.

The Commercial Department has a record of typewriting and short hand.

Several pages are devoted to athletic activities and a record of alumni from 1879 to 1926 is quite complete.

The advertising matter reflects credit to good business management for the editorial board, and whole-hearted financial support of local merchants and others which make possible the publication.

Musical Comedy, "Springtime"

Springtime, a musical comedy, presented Thursday and Friday evenings, in the Opera House, was a success, under the direction of Miss Miriam Mower of the John B. Rogers Producing Company, and Miss Ada Reed, piano accompanist. Some three of the principals were talent outside the school, but the remainder of the large cast was made up of students down to the lower grades. The proceeds are for the graduating class.

This three act performance differs materially as a story from others staged here in the past, being a "period" play, a large variety of costumes from another age were shown in contrast to modern raiment. Old time songs and graceful dances were introduced in their proper setting and altogether quite attractive.

A garden scene near New York City in the present year is held for the entire performance. A mardi gras party is the occasion for the grandmother of the hostess to grow a bit reminiscent and tell the group a story of the romance connecting the families of the Brewsters and the Wainwrights.

The action of the musical drama is based on this story dating from 1868 when the same garden was a setting for another party in quaint costumes. In this first act the first generation of Brewsters and Wainwrights were in their prime with the young people aspirations not unlike those of today There was dancing, love, and marriage, with pomp and ceremony. "Brewster's Pills" built a fortune that extended through many generations.

The second act rehearses the living conditions of the second generation in 1888, bringing to the attention changed costumes, more lively dancing, and several attractive ensembles.

The last act is strictly modern. with the Charleston and Mardi-gras in which grandmothers, grandchildren, and great grandchildren have important parts. Costumes are up to the minute and a contrast to pantelettes in 1868.

Many fine dancing and musical numbers were introduced as "Captain Jinks," "Our Wedding Day," "Till Our Dreams Come True," "Virginia Reel," "Stephanie Gavotte." "Dance of the Spirits of Memories" and others well worth special mention.

All parts were well taken from the principals to the tiniest tots. Without detraction from he excellence of others, the characters impersonated by Mrs. Eva Elvirs, Gary Locke, Clayton Murch and Mrs. Marguerite Bowser were especially pleasing to the audiences. The last two mentioned produced the comedy introduced in places to put snap into the story that might grow too heavy.

Miss Marion Haskell, violinist, and Miss Ada Reed, piano, accompanied all musical numbers. The actors were directed from the wings by Miss Mower.

The following appeared as principals in dramatic and musical numbers:

Elvira Eastman, a social butterfly.....
..... Dorothy Anderson
Desiree, Joyce and Sue.....
Evelyn Saleeby, Hilda Stineford and Mary Favor.
Mrs. Elkins, the grandmother....Wilma Calef

IN MEMORY OF A FRIEND

True friendship is of rare value
And to but few of us this credit is due,
But to Barker is owed this great credit,
Is it not so? I'll leave it to you.
I chummed with dear Burton for eight short years,
And his loyalty I truly knew.
"Swede" was surely a wonderful friend,
Is it not so? I'll leave it to you.
We've had many good times together,
But these good times seem only too few:
His trustworthy friendship was boundless.
Was it not? I'll leave it to you.
He was true to himself and to others,
Always friends he was making anew,
He was certainly a very fine fellow,
Is it not so? I'll leave it to you.
No matter what he was doing,
His work was always true blue,
He surely deserves all this credit,
Is it not so? I'll leave it to you.
"Swede" was the same at all times,
Good-natured, loving, and true,
I consider his friendship was priceless,
Was it not? I'll leave it to you.

Moulton School Notes—Walks Seven Miles a Day—Merrills Arrive Safely in Wetherbee, N. Y.

The names of the children in Miss Moulton's school who got 100 in spelling last week, May 16, are as follows: Stephen Ridlon, Willie Mann, Henry Mann, Hilda Chandler, Julia Chandler, Nora Chandler.

Beatrice Ridlon has finished work for Mrs. John Pike and is visiting in the Ridlon neighborhood.

Gerald Bishop is peeling pulp for W. D. Moulton.

George Ridlon and Chester Russell are at work on the road for Lee Kimball.

Dan Ridlon, who helped in caring for the late Capt. Cook of Bridgton, is at his mother's home in Sweden.

Mrs. Emma Wilson still remains in a critical condition. Her sister, Lizzie, who is almost a helpless invalid, remains much the same.

Charlie Bennett is staying at home and driving to and from Bridgton Academy with his Ford. Carl Ridlon is walking back and forth, a distance of seven miles.

Charles Porter cut his foot badly while chopping wood. Fortunately, a good Samaritan in the shape of Miss Alice Perry came by just as Charles got out to the road. She helped him home and called the neighbors who stopped the bleeding and did up the foot. Charles is lucky to have good neighbors as he lives all alone.

Recent visitors in the Ridlon neighborhood, are Mr. and Mrs. Del Gilman and family, from Lovell, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Parker and family, from Fryeburg.

Fred Porter has sawed Isabel Ridlon's wood with a gasoline engine.

Letters received from Mrs. Walter Merrill, tell of the safe arrival at Witherbee, N. Y., of herself and the children. Mr. Merrill has a good job in the iron mines.

NEWRY—SUNDAY RIVER

Mrs. Jennie Littlehale, son, Lucien, and family and nephew, Augustus Littlehale, were here Sunday, and decorated the graves of their people, in Hillside Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hamlin and children, Margaret and Stanley, and aunt, Mrs. A. E. K. Grover, were also up the Valley. Mrs. Grover decorated the graves of her people and friends and enjoyed the beautiful drive to Ketchum. It was Mrs. Hamlin's first visit and she was enraptured with the loveliness on all sides. Mrs. Grover fully agrees with Holman Day. "It's home, it's home up here." The ground is drying and much is in fine shape for planting and appearance indicates quite an acreage will be under cultivation this season. They went from here to Grover Hill cemetery at Bethel.

Cleve Fairbanks and wife (Lorna Littlehale) and son, Clayton, of Braintree, Mass., were up to their summer home on the branch, Sunday—just a flying trip as their time was limited. Mrs. Fairbanks reported her father, Orin Littlehale, as somewhat improved and walks in a very feeble manner.

MEMORIAL DAY

The nation, Monday, paid its annual tribute to the memory of its dead. No other sovereignty observes similar general custom.

Memorial Day, first designed in honor of the soldier dead of the republic, now is celebrated in remembrance of all those who have passed from the experiences of life. Millions went to the cemeteries. A deluge of flowers hides the graves of the sleepers who lie "under the sun and the dew". For one day emotions tenderly human, stir the hearts of the multitudes. Today the Harp of Life breathes, softly, notes of love's most sacred yearnings.

In the cemeteries—there lie youth and age that was. But mortal love is deathless. It follows inevitable processions to inescapable graves, but it does not stop there. It looks behind the horizons of Time. It recognizes no barriers. It leaps the vastness of immensity. It will not be denied. It wears the wings of Faith. It follows the star of an eternal hope. It triumphs over all things. This is true because love is the divinest gift of God.

So the multitudes go to innumerable cemeteries this day. They go in the name of love, inspired by its tender, irresistable appeals. They bear flowers, because flowers are fragrant, beautiful; they symbolize innocence, purity—endless recurrent resurrections; they are the tenderest tokens of mortal affection.

Parents and children go to the cities of the dead; the worldly and the religious, the vulgar and the refined, the hard men of affairs and the men of stern duty go. There is no soul in which there does not nestle some sentiment of love and reverence; and loving reverence is the due of the sleepers who once walked and labored and smiled in the fullness of life's enjoyment, or who, in the moil of its endless struggle, fought their way as best they could.

But Memorial Day will always be, primarily, a day of remembrance for the soldier dead of the republic. They made it possible for the republic to be created. They preserved the nation in its hours of danger and travail. But for them the flags would not be flying today. But for them the multitudes of America would not now be breathing the air of liberty, enjoying the blessings of peace. So, in their honor, the nation's standards wave; there is music, sad and heroic, inspiring. There is reverent eulogy of their achievements and sacrifices. There is laud and praise for their glory which is immortal.

Memorial Day, for America, is a day of devotion and rededication—devotion to home, to country; of personal rededication of lives to nobler purposes.

Lesson for June 5

PETER PREACHING TO GENTILES

LESSON TEXT—Acts 10:1-11:18.

GOLDEN TEXT—For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek; for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him.—Rom. 10:12.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Tells a Foreigner About Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Takes the Gospel to Gentiles.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Taking the Gospel to All Races.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How the Gospel Overcomes Race Prejudice.

The missionary program of the church having broadened to include the Samaritans, we see in this lesson it still widening and embracing the Gentiles. Through the conversion of Cornelius, the "middle wall of partition" was broken down (Eph. 2:4).

I. Cornelius (10:1, 2).

1. His official position (v. 1).

He was a Roman officer over a company of 100 soldiers.

2. His character (v. 2).

(1) A devout, pious man. (2) He was a praying man. (3) He was charitable. He gave much alms. (4) He was respected by his family.

II. The Supernatural Preparation for the Transition of the Gospel to the Gentiles (10:3-33).

This was of divine arrangement. No barrier is too great to prevent the coming together of persons whom the Lord desires to meet. In order to bring this about:

1. Two visions were given.

(1) The vision of Cornelius (vv. 3-8).

While engaged in prayer, an angel of God announced that his prayer and alms had come before God as a memorial, and instructed him to send to Joppa for Peter who would tell him what to do.

(2) The vision of Peter (vv. 9-16).

This took place while Peter was praying (v. 9). He saw a certain vessel containing clean and unclean animals let down from heaven, and heard the command, "Rise, Peter, kill and eat." Peter protested that he had never eaten any unclean thing. God replied, "What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common."

2. A messenger sent from Cornelius (vv. 17-22).

Peter was greatly perplexed over what he had seen, but not for long, for messengers from Cornelius made inquiry at the gate for him. The spirit informed Peter of the matter and bade him go, nothing doubting.

3. The meeting of Cornelius and Peter (vv. 23-33).

(1) Peter took six witnesses along (v. 23).

(2) Cornelius waiting for Peter (v. 24).

He called together his kinsmen and near friends.

(3) Cornelius about to worship Peter (vv. 25, 26).

Peter repudiated his act and protested that he was but a man.

(4) The reciprocal explanation (vv. 27-33).

III. Peter's Sermon (vv. 34-43).

1. The introduction (vv. 34, 35).

He showed that God is no respecter of persons. This does not mean that Cornelius was already in a state of grace, thereby saved, but that he was eligible to hear the gospel and accept the terms of salvation.

2. His discourse (vv. 36-43).

In the discourse he touches briefly upon the mission of Jesus, showing that by means of His baptism and anointing with the Holy Spirit, He was qualified for His work as mediator. He then exhibited the work of Christ:

(1) In His life (vv. 36-39).

It was one of beneficence. He went about doing good, even casting out demons as a proof that God was with Him (v. 38).

(2) In His death (v. 39).

The just suffered for the unjust that He might bring us to God (I Pet. 3:18).

(3) In His resurrection (vv. 40, 41).

In this discourse is set forth:

(a) The basis of salvation—the crucifixion of Christ.

(b) The scope of salvation—whosoever believeth in Him.

(c) The method of appropriating salvation—believing on Him.

IV. The Holy Spirit Poured Out (vv. 44-48).

This was a new Pentecost.

V. Peter Vindicates His Ministry to the Gentiles (11:1-18).

Being called to account for visiting and eating with Gentiles, Peter rehearsed the whole story in such a way that his narrative took the form of logical argument, and showed how God had set His seal upon the work by the miraculous gift of the Spirit.

Closing the Day

Says Dr. R. A. Torrey: "No bank ever closes its business day until its balance is found to be absolutely correct. And no Christian should close a single day until his accounts with God for that day have been perfectly adjusted alone with Him."

SERVICES AT MEETING HOUSE—EXCURSION OF UNIVERSALIST SOCIETIES—STATE ELECTION WITH EXCITEMENT—CATTLE SHOW NOT AS GOOD AS PRECEDING YEAR

Edited by Don C. Seitz

Aug. 15, 1858—Sunday. Some cloudy and dull. Friday and Saturday was good hay weather. The first of the week was dull weather. Mr. Whittemore preach'd in our meeting house last Sunday to a full congregation. He was lik'd extremely well. He preach'd on Paris Hill at 5 o'clock to a large collection.

We have finish'd up our Bridge foundation at North Yarmouth Bridge. We have laid out a large expense, but at last have succeeded in getting a good foundation. Webster has nearly finish'd his haying and has a fair crop. The weather has been very poor for getting hay this season. Webster's potatoes show some sign of rusting, but the bottoms now are very good and not only quite abundant, but are of excellent quality.

Aug. 28—Sunday. No meeting at our meeting House today. Very rainy last night, but clear'd off about 10 o'clock A. M. Last Tuesday the Mechanic Association had an excursion to the Fair Grounds 800 or 900 persons came over the R. Road. A large portion of them spent the time in the Village here.

Mr. C. E. Barrett came to our house and took dinner, after which we rode up to Frost's Corner and thence over to the R. Road. I went to I. Pond on Wednesday and was taken sick on Thursday with dizzyness and its attendant troubles and suffer'd very much on the way home, but am better now and think of going to Portland tomorrow.

Webster's crops look finely; corn never was better. Potatoes are very good. The garden was never better. Mr. Snow will commence preaching here next Sunday.

Sept. 5.—Sunday and very fine morning. It has been wet and rainy a part of the time for several weeks, but warm. The water in the Mill Pond is now up to the top of the Dam, which is very unusual at this time of year.

Yesterday the Republicans muster'd about 250 strong at the Town House and nominated Maj. H. W. Millett for Representative. Today Mr. Snow commences with the Universalist Society here.

Sept. 12.—Sunday—clearing off—last night and yesterday was very rainy. Generally last week was dry and warm. Today Mr. Snow preaches at Paris Hill for the first time. I expect to go to hear him. We are preparing for an excursion of the Universalist Societies in this vicinity, to Portland and the Islands next Tuesday. Tomorrow is State Election, with a good deal of excitement. Maj. H. W. Millett is the Republican candidate for Representative in this district and L. F. Pike the Democratic Candidate. Wm. W. Virgin is the Candidate for County Attorney.

Sept. 19—Sunday and quite pleasant. Mr. Snow preach'd today with a pretty full meeting. Last Monday was the State Election. Ev'ry Republican Representative to Congress is elect'd 2-3 or more of the House in this State and all the Senators but one—Morrill's majority will be 10,000 or more. Maj. H. W. Millett is chosen Representative from this district by 34. The Universalists of this vicinity had an excursion last Tuesday to Portland and the Islands. 891 tickets were sold at $1.

Oct. 3—Sunday. Cloudy and has the appearance of rain. A part of the last week has been good weather for harvesting. Friday was a heavy rain. The Universalists had a good meeting here last Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Snow was ordain'd on Wednesday.

The week coming is to be the Cattle Show and a Master of the Military (6 or 7 companies) at the Show Grounds and near them. Webster is backward about his harvesting owing to bad weather.

Corn is quite good; potatoes are good quality but small in quantity. Pumpkins, carrots and other vegetables are very good.

Oct. 10—Sunday. Windy and quite pleasant. Yesterday there was some rain. Last week was the Cattle Show and Master's 5 companies were on the field, 3 from Portland one from Auburn and one from Norway. The Cattle Show was not so good as last year. There were 5 or 6,000 people on the ground on Wednesday, Tuesday and Thursday the attendance was small.

The work on the new wharf and the work on the Bridges progresses very well. One abutment at Danville is finish'd and one at Yarmouth nearly finish'd. The other one at Danville is now under way with 3 or 4 courses of stone lain. The Piers at Connecticut River are nearly finish'd The one at Dummer No. 1 is all finish'd. One at Gilead is up 3 or 4 courses and the other will be commenc'd in a few days.

The Baptists will occupy our meeting house today. Mr. Snow goes to Paris Hill.

Oct. 17—Some cloudy this morning (Sunday). The past week has been quite rainy a part of the time. So far the season has been very wet. The Crops are very good generally, but it is quite difficult to secure them.

About this time last year a friend and customer had to leave town because he had been transferred to a different branch. He put his house on the market, but simply couldn't sell it.

We suggested that he paint his house, but at first he couldn't see spending the money. But we persisted and he finally took our advice and painted it with Bay State Liquid House Paint.

The house was sold within a week after the house was finished and for far more than he had asked before.

Experience shows that trying to save money by not painting often enough, or by painting with cheaper paints is a sure way of wasting money. Use Bay State Liquid House Paint because it means—a better-looking job—a cheaper job—longer wear—greater protection.

YES AND NO

By Edgar O. Spaulding

"Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep—and you've bought Florida real estate."

Last year the newspapers here spent much editorial space telling Florida in particular and the whole world in general, that there was no boom, that all of this excitement, feverish building, land auctions and development was just good, honest, substantial growth which was destined to make of Florida, one of the greatest states in the union and anyone who presumed to criticise all this, was a rank foreigner from the north, who was spreading northern propaganda, to belittle and harm, a great and glorious state. For wasn't all the northern states jealous of Florida's prosperity and wasn't they trying their darndest, by printing vicious lies and so forth to keep the good hard dollars at home, where they could only earn a measly six per cent, when said dollars could come to Florida and by an investment, which by the way, was as safe as the rock of Gibralter, earn three hundred or more per cent? Why did all the nothern papers persist in talking about a boom, when there was no boom? Why did they? And I echo, Why did they?

Now all is changed and all spare editorial space is spent in trying to prove how much better off they are now than before the boom or as it is generally worded, "the slump in real estate."

It is true that most of the cities are better off, for much has been accomplished in the way of permanent buildings and municipal improvements, much more than would have been the case otherwise. It is true also that many places are built ahead of their needs for some time to come especially is this so regarding dwellings. And this, in my opinion, is one of the causes of hard times which just now is a principal topic of conversation.

On the subject of northern propaganda the newspapers are just as touchy as ever. In size they are just about half as large as last year.

Taking Jacksonville as an example, it was not unusual for its largest daily last winter, to carry twenty solid pages of real estate display advertising. I do not mean the classified or small advertisements. This fall there would sometimes as much as half a page but on other days there would be none. This shows better than anything else I could write what has happened down here. I understand, that one big daily would give a good deal to know what has become of 348 of its former customers.

Jacksonville, owing to its geographical location is bound to be the commercial center of this part of the United States. In spite of what bubble busting may have done elsewhere, it, seemingly, has had no effect here. There was just as much building going on as ever, there was the same crowds on the streets and in the stores and there seemed to be full as many working people in camp as last year. In the northern part of the city I saw several new homes of brick and tile, going up that would cost, conservatively, from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars each. I did notice however in Jacksonville, that many stores, which last year were real estate offices, are now occupied by slower moving and possibly more worthy pursuits.

We have stopped in Jax long enough so let's be on our way once more. Monday, Nov. 1st, we pack for the last lap of our journey to Deland. Over a new route this time via Green Cove Springs and Palatka. A pretty drive, which follows the St. John's river much of the way. We had a rough detour of some fifteen miles near Palatka, around road building operations where a new state road is being relocated. This is completed now.

From Palatka the road is perfect and we arrive at Deland in due course. Here we meet the custodian whom we knew as a fellow camper last winter and pitch our tent for an extended stay. In making camp for a semi-permanent stay some care should be spent on the site and be sure to pick out high ground if possible. We have found by experience, that no matter how warm the weather, a tent should be placed where it receives the sun at least a part of the day, preferably in the morning. The morning will help warm the tent for dressing as well as keep things dry from the dew and you will find your clothes keep perfectly. Once the tent is up, a ditch three or four inches deep should be dug all the way around with two or three short canals leading away so as to take care of the water, should it rain. If this is done you will have no trouble of water backing up and running through the floor.

The tent up, I went to the post office for my mail. I walked up to the General Delivery window where I had last called for mail on March thirty-first. The same girl was on the job as of old. "Oh," she says, "I know you" and without waiting for a single word from me, gave me my mail. It was just like coming home again.

After six months' absence from Deland, the most noticeable change is the disappearance of real estate offices on the main street and of many more from business entirely. Last winter there was probably twenty real estate offices on the main street where today there are but three and I doubt if there are more than twelve in the whole city where last winter there were sixty.

Gone are the auctions with the free Fords and the free five dollar gold pieces. Gone are the male quartets, bands and dance orchestras. Gone are the big motor busses and the free dinner. Gone are the salesmen with their promises of one hundred per cent profit in sixty days. Gone are the free entertainments and the free souvenirs. Gone, all gone, no one knows where.

There must be something about the air down here that intoxicates for the minute the stranger from the north gets inside the state line, he is unhappy until he has bought himself a piece of this sand. Good sensible people, who would never in all the world, pay ten cents an acre for sand at home, will before being here two weeks buy Florida sand and pay ten dollars a square foot for it. This year is no exception.

There never has been and probably never will be a shortage of building lots in Florida. Plenty of lots have been available at all times last year as well as now. The only shortage was in houses and homes. Last year it was next to impossible to find a vacant home or apartment anywhere. Today I should say, for a guess, that there are five hundred vacancies in Deland alone. And the prices this year are not over one third of last year's prices. I have had an apartment of three rooms and bath, two blocks from schools, offered me at twenty dollars per month. We also had an apartment at Lake Helen, (6 miles from Deland) with use of boat on the lake, offered to us for the season (until May 1st,) for one hundred dollars. This same apartment last winter would easily have brought four times that price.

All of this, which by the way will apply to any city in Florida that I have visited this season, goes to show that it will be some time before there will be any great demand for building lots and that as an investment, their earning power is questionable. The fact that a lot is located inside the city limits doesn't mean a single thing, for most Florida cities both great and small, take in as much territory as a county in Delaware at low

I have had an apartment of three rooms and bath, two blocks from the ocean, offered me at twenty dollars per month. We also had an apartment at Lake Helen, (6 miles from Deland) with use of boat on the lake, offered to us for the season (until May 1st,) for one hundred dollars. This same apartment last winter would easily have brought four times that price.

All of this, which by the way will apply to any city in Florida that I have visited this season, goes to show that it will be some time before there will be any great demand for building lots and that as an investment, their earning power is questionable. The fact that a lot is located inside the city limits doesn't mean a single thing, for most Florida cities both great and small, take in as much territory as a county in Delaware at low tide. The banks here will not lend money on unimproved real estate.

Many subdivisions have been abandoned, some have merely suspended, while a few have gone on with their programme as promised to investors.

One big local development has cut the price of lots which does not seem quite fair to those who have already bought at the first valuation. Individuals are also reducing the price of their holdings and I predict that there will be much more of this before the year is out. An old saying has it, that, "what goes up must come down" and this may be true to some extent but Florida real estate will never again be low as before the boom started.

If I owned property which I felt was good, then I should hold on until such time as prosperity shall come again, but if I felt doubtful I should do as one real estate firm advertised last winter and that is,—"List your property with us and kiss it goodbye."

It may be that I am too pessimistic in regard to this for I realize that,—

"The difference between an optimist
And a pessimist is droll.
The optimist sees the doughnut,
The pessimist sees the hole."

However I am trying to write of things as I see them and you only have to believe what you wish.

The agricultural possibilities of Florida are great and what has been done so far is merely a beginning. More farms and farmers must be induced to settle here if the Sunshine State is to take her proper place in the Union. Much can be grown here at a time when Northern markets are empty and there is bound to be a demand. Florida needs industries but it is only through agriculture that industry can be developed. Manufacturing as such, can never be a great success here, on account of power being expensive, being generated wholly by steam and also owing to the distance from market and raw materials. Speculation, however profitable for a time, does not make for permanency. If a way could be found to preserve orange juice and thereby use what is wasted at present it would do ore for the prosperity of Florida than any other one thing.

The tourist crop is one thing that can be depended on to a certain extent and just so long as there is ice and snow up north, just so long will there be tourists in Florida where out door life is perfectly comfortable in the winter time. And wherever there are tourists there are bound to be a certain measure of prosperity.

I have been asked what the weather really is down here in the winter time, so I will tell you what we have experienced for weather so far this winter.

We arrived, as I said before, at this camp, on November first. The first week end we were here, there was three solid days of rain after which it was cold for three or four days with the thermometer in the forties. Then followed until after Christmas, the most perfect stretch of weather I have ever seen with bright sun every day and the temperature 70 degrees or better every day. On only two days in this time was there any rain and then only two short showers. It turned cold on New Year's day followed by a frost which killed most of the flowers. January eleventh and twelfth brought another cold wave with temperature of 26 degrees and 24 degrees respectively. This was the coldest since 1917 and did much damage to citrus fruit, and garden stuff, as well as putting strawberries out of business completely. Then followed one night of rain with more cold on the fourteenth and fifteenth, then perfect weather again. As I set in the shade in my shirt sleeves writing this paragraph (Jan. 21st), the sun is bright overhead, the trees around me are sending out new leaves and the temperature is about 80. Sounds alluring, doesn't it?

Can one be comfortable in a tent with the temperature at twenty-four? Certainly they can if they have plenty of bedding. We carry now-a-days nineteen blankets of which fifteen are all wool. We also have an oil heater to keep the tent warm when it is too cold to sit outside.

Last year, at this time, there were over one hundred eighty (180) outfits on this campground. Today I counted forty-eight (48). Thirty-eight (38) states, from coast to coast, the District of Columbia, and three (3) provinces of Canada have been represented so far this winter. This shows how wide spread is this camping bug.

A local and very wealthy society lady with her small daughter some ten or twelve years of age was walking by the camp the other day. The child could not seem to puzzle out why people were living in tents, so she put the question to her mother.

"Why do all those people live in tents; Mother? Are they gypsies?"

"No, my child, those are not Gypsies, those are poor tourists from the north."

Oh! What a slam.

The colored lady who solicits washing from the campers who lives in a house you would not use for a hog, and who probably hasn't five dollars to her name, in common with the rest of her race, looks down on us and calls "poor white trash" because we live in a tent instead of a respectable house like she does. She would never get so low, never.

And yet we have several campers who are financially independent and one in particular I know to be worth at least $40,000. People cannot seem to understand that there could be such a thing as any one living in a tent from choice, with the great healthy out of doors as a play ground.

The cost of living this year is decidedly less than last; fully twenty-five per cent less. We pay more here for butter, milk, and flour than at home while meat and canned goods are about the same, in some cases, cheaper. Coffee is much cheaper. A fresh egg here is a "yard" egg and all yard eggs at the present time are selling for sixty cents per dozen. They also have "mixed" eggs which now sell at thirty-nine (39) cents. I asked the clerk in the A. & P. as to what a "mixed" egg was. "Well" he says, Mixed eggs are not yard eggs and they're not storage eggs, they're just mixed eggs." This left me right where I started so I gave it up. I do not know what a "mixed" egg is, even yet.

All kinds of vegetables are cheap. New carrots, turnips, beets, celery, etc., ten cents a good size bunch. New cabbage, six or seven cents a pound, new potatoes, seven and eight cents a pound. Lettuce 10 cents a head. String beans, ten cents, while green peas are two pounds for a quarter. Bananas three pounds, twenty-five cents. The frost of January 12th has set things back so that some things will not be so very plenty until a new crop can grow, especially in this true of strawberries.

There has been a gasoline war here between the Gulf and Standard with the result that we have been buying gas all winter for twenty cents which price includes a four cent state tax. Gas went up this week to twenty-three cents. This four cent tax is all spent on roads which is as it should be and around $15,000,000 was realized for that purpose this year. If the receipts from this tax hold up, and there is no reason for thinking they won't, Florida will, in five years' time have the best system of roads of any state in the Union. There are hundreds of miles of perfect roads right now.

It is said that almost all real estate men wear knickers, or, as they are called here, "subdivision pants". I, myself, am addicted to this style of trousers, as I find them much more convenient for camping. I was walking home from work the other day with two little boys, perhaps six or seven years old, just in front of me. One of them turned around and seeing me coming, nudged his partner to attract his attention, and pointing straight at me, piped up—"O! See the fat man coming with short pants on!" 'Tis true, 'tis true I am fat, but it's something I can't help and apropos of nothing at all in particular, I am wearing long trousers now.

An attempt is being made to bring the land auction back to popularity. At the only one held so far the property brought about half the prices of last year with the bidders, according to the De Land Daily News, almost wholly northern people. The prizes were silver dollars instead of Ford cars and gold pieces as last year.

Working men, professional men, business men and all, live in the hope that those good old times of the past shall come again, so that there shall be plenty of honest dollars to reward honest effort. for though they know now that things was moving at too fast a pace to last, wasn't it great while it lasted?

And to the realtor though he may not wave his arms as much as formerly, the land is just as beautiful as of yore. And his big signs beside the road still shout in letters two feet high that "all is beautiful", though the paint has lost its lustre and the signs have a neglected appearance much like the beautiful subdivisions they so brightly advertised, only a short year ago. The beautiful sun shines upon the beautiful lake. The beautiful water ripples and dances in the breeze. The tall and beautiful pine casts its shadow across the beautiful fronds of the beautiful palm planted on the shores of the wondrously beautiful shoreline of the lake. The beautiful fish now swim in peaceful security, feeling sure we may presume, that a beautiful street of a beautiful city to be, will not be surveyed through the middle of him. A beautiful Florida sun-set is in the making, filling the evening sky with much beautiful color. As darkness comes on a beautiful white moon illuminates the beautiful (but flat) landscape and the stars twinkle overhead like a thousand beautiful diamonds. We settle down for an evening at home to enjoy the beautiful air of a beautiful Florida's winter night. We retire in the course of events, believing that a beautiful sunrise awaits us in the morning. And here let us bring our beautiful story to a close for try as hard as we can, we can think of no way more beautiful. A beautiful ending as it were.

(The End.)

KEZAR FALLS

Holiday Visitors—Mrs. Ida Davis Dead.

The Sophomores of Porter High, held a supper in the vestry, for the benefit of their exchequer on the evening of May 25, with gratifying results.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Sr., their son, Harold, and Miss Nettie Sabine of Peabody, Mass. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merrifield. Miss Marion Boothby of Portland spent the holidays with her friend, Mrs. Bert Chapman. Professor and Mrs. Harms of Bates College were visitors at Hon. and Mrs. O. L. Stanley's. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. French of Cambridge, Mass., have been staying a few days at Hotel Malvern. Fred Fox and two children, Clifton and Florence, who came from Haverhill to attend the Memorial Day services were made welcome by Mrs. Herman J. Fox.

The students, who could make it convenient, came flocking back to the home nests for the observance of Memorial Day. Lillian Giles, Carolyn Stanley, Muriel Doe, Neal Stanley and Mildred Mitchell from Bates; Malcolm Stanley of Bowdoin; Margaret Chellis, University of New Hampshire; Ruth Palmer and Irene Merrifield, Gorham Normal.

Saturday, the Junior High School, of Poyer, with their teacher, Miss Lucy Huff, spent the day in Augusta. Mr. Dunnack, State Librarian, very kindly took them in tow and they had a most wonderful day.

Mrs. Ida Davis passed away Thursday, May 26th, after months of weary suffering. Her husband, George Davis, had preceded her several years ago. They leave one daughter, Grace, wife of Myron Ridlon, and two grandchildren, George and Eleanor. Services were held Sunday afternoon and were private. Among the floral pieces was one typifying the Gates Ajar, the flowers were very beautiful. Rev. Arthur Callaghan spoke very ably and sympathetically from the words, "I have fought the good fight." Mrs. Walter Carpenter sang two selections, "Sometime We'll Understand" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." James Chapman, Herbert Stacy, W. T. Norton and Walter Carpenter were the bearers. Interment in Riverside Cemetery.

The sermon Sunday morning, by the pastor, Rev. A. A. Callaghan, was based on the text "Now shall the prince of the world be cast out." The Legion boys of the Carroll West Post came marching in, with Sheridan Champion proudly bearing the Star Spangled Banner, and Samuel Watkins, the flag of the Legion. The male quartette, consisting of B. F. Ridlon, Orion Stanley, Gordon West and W. T. Norton, furnished excellent music.

Mrs. Litchfield and daughter, Anna, who have been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Fox, have returned to their home in Pine Point.

HARRISON

Calvary Community Church News—Miss Ethel Whitney and School Orchestra Win Honors—Golf Course Being Laid Out—Prof. Bristol Arrived.

Morning service was unusually large on Memorial Sunday. Rev. H. J. Wells preached a splendid and appropriate sermon. His text was, "Therefore David inquired of the Lord, saying, 'Shall I go and smite these Philistines and save Keilah?' And the Lord said, 'Go, and smite the Philistines and save Keilah.'" A mixed quartet sang, "Crossing the Bar" and as a response to the prayer, Paul Walker sang, "Going Home". Seth Keene and Mr. Jordan were the guests of honor. They are the only living veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic in Harrison.

Three birthday offerings were made in the church school. Miss Barbara St. John, Miss Buck and Jack Hunter received the best wishes of the other members for their birthdays. An exceptionally large attendance for the auto season was reported.

The week night meeting will be held as usual on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in the church vestry. The regular pastor, Rev. L. W. Witham will be in charge.

The 3rd annual conclave of New England School Bands and orchestras was recenty held on Boston Common. Among the prominent and best orchestras was that of the Roosevelt School of Melrose, Mass., led by Miss F. Ethel Whitney of Harrison. From the large school of over 400 pupils, Miss Whitney personally selected this fine orchestra of 47 pieces. At the Program held in Recital Hall in which about twenty-five orchestras from different parts of New England played, the Roosevelt School and leader received special and honorable mention. This is indeed an honor when one considers that over 100 bands and orchestras took part and over 3,000 pupils of New England High Schools were present. Miss Whitney has long been prominent in the musical circles of Melrose, where she has taught for a number of years She is organist at one of the largest churches of the city and has recently accepted a position at another church where she will also play the pipe organ at which she is very efficient. Her many friends are pleased to hear of her success.

One of the finest golf courses in this section of Maine is being laid out at the Country Club estate of W. A. Naughton, of New York. The course will cover 60 acres in an ideal spot opposite the Club house on the former Trafton place at South Harrison. David Curtis designed and planned the entire arrangement of the course which is attracting much attention Several other summer guests are hoping to secure Mr. Curtis for the plans of their golf courses. Mr. Curtis is also doing the work with the aid of his men.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. L. Walker have been spending a week in South Harpswell, making repairs at the Walker cottage there.

Misses Lucille Kneeland and Frances Thompson of Nasson Institute, Springvale, were recent guests of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gough and Dorothy, Lester Caswell of Portsmouth, N. H., and Helen Caswell of Oxford were all guests of their father, J. Walker Caswell over the week end and Memorial.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Smith opened their ice cream rooms at the Grange building last Saturday. An excellent array of goodies was on hand and several flavors of the S. & H. cream.

The Crackenjack Minstrels from Westbrook will present their show at Grange Hall, Friday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Fred Graffam of Lancaster, N. H., were recent guests of her mother, Mrs. Ella Dawes, who returned to Lancaster with them for a visit.

For the week end and holiday, F. Ethel Whitney and Mr. Damon were guests at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Whitney.

Hazel Burnham went to Portland Tuesday, where she underwent a throat operation. Mrs. Mildred Haley is assisting in the office of the Me. Tel. & Tel. Co. during Miss Burnham's convalescence.

Miss Phoebe Haskell and Mrs. Bertha (Pitts) Piper, proprietors of Camp Bendito, spent the week end in town.

Ceeil Nevers of Haverhill, Mass., spent a few days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs Frank Nevers on Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis of Somerville, Mass., were in town the past week. His mother, Mrs. R. L. Davis underwent a serious operation at St. Barnabas Hospital in Portland, last week but is making a fine recovery.

Joseph Chaplin is stopping in Norway, at the Fair Grounds, where he has several horses in training for Charles Proctor of Naples. C. D. Tarbox goes there every day and is training his racer and getting ready for the season.

Mrs. C. C. Doughty and Mr. Burnell of West Baldwin are assisting at the Harrison Branch of the Fidelity Trust Co.

Many of the older citizens were saddened that there was no observance of Memorial Day and no service of any sort held on that day.

Mrs. Elzabeth Stone, Mrs. Elmer Morrill, and daughter, Margaret, and Postmaster Philip F. Stone, all of Norway, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pitts on Hillside Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Doughty and Madame Doughty, who spent the winter in Naples, are at their home on Main St. for the summer.

Professor F. E. Bristol arrived last week for the season and is at his beautiful camp on Long Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hapgood are assisting and Norman Ward is chauffeur. Mr. Ward has been in New York the past month and returned with Professor Bristol for the summer here.

On Tuesday evening, June 7, the Parent-Teachers Association will hold their monthly meeting. A business meeting and splendid program will be given and refreshments served. A large attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Green and daughter, Mona G. spent Memorial with relatives in Cornish.

NORWAY LAKE

Stephen Spofford of Lynn, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allen and daughter, of Melrose, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith from Friday night until Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Clarence Dunham has been ill.

Clarence Dunham had the misfortune to step on a rusty spike, which penetrated his foot. Mr. Dunham has been confined to his bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bennett and Lucy Cobb motored to Portland, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Healy and daughters, Frances and Mary, went to Portland, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Healy returned Sunday night, but the girls stayed over for the holiday and their father and mother, accompanied by Pauline and John Snow, went after them, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Flood. Mrs. May Flood and daughter, Beryl, of Farmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Decoster of the village were Sunday guests at Virgil Flood's.

Mrs. Mary Witt of Augusta, who has been spending a week at her old home at Norway Center, called on friends here, Tuesday.

Supreme Judicial Court

May Term

The May term at Rumford finally adjourned Thursday, after being in session fifteen days.

Ethel Warhurst, Rumford, was given a judgment of $500 and costs in Oxford Supreme Judicial Court Monday, when her suit against Matthew J. Haggerty, of Rumford and Bridgton, which was scheduled for trial but which never reached the courtroom, was settled.

Miss Warhurst brought suit early last February and the case was scheduled for the May term of court. The suit was for $500 which Miss Warhurst loaned Haggerty.

Attorney Frank Preti of Portland was here Monday, representing Haggerty and lack of defense, it was stated, kept the case from the jury. An agreement was reached and the judgment for $500 and costs for Miss Warhurst was entered.

The matter of largest magnitude heard was the two cases, Raymond vs. Eldred and Wing vs. Eldred, tried together, in which the total awarded the two amounted to over $2900. A number of other verdicts were returned, for comparatively small amounts.

In the criminal list, one was sentenced to state prison for not less than four years and not over eight, three were committed to the state reformatory, and a number of others took fines and jail sentences. Most of the respondents pleaded guilty.

Divorces Granted

Dusting Controls Potato Bugs Leaf Hoppers, Blight

Hand, Traction and Power Dusters in various Models to meet different Crop requirements.

in a fraction of the time and with much less labor than liquid spraying.

For example, the Niagara Crop Duster, traction operated will dust 20 acres of potatoes in 8 hours. (Power operated, 30 acres)—and you don't have to mix solutions, tinker with spray-rig, or haul tons of water, for in dusting air is the carrier.

If you grow Potatoes, Cabbages, Peas, Fruits or Truck Crops, it will pay you to come in and find out which model Duster and which Dusts are best for your use.
